HOUSE REBELS STOP TARIFF STAMPEDE

ALL SECTIONS GIVE SUPPORT TO ROOSEVELT

HOOVER ROLLING ON TO CERTAIN RE-NOMINATION

BY D. HAROLD OLIVER
(Associated Press Staff Wrtier)

Washington, March 26 (AP)—An Easter lull in presidential delegate picking by the voters finds Franklin D. Roosevelt carrying by far the largest basket of votes for the Democratic nomination and President Hoover rolling along toward renomination with only two out of 93 delegates opposed to him.

The past week saw Governor Roosevelt score heavily in the south's first presidential primary, his ten to one vote in Georgia assuring him of that state's 28 convention votes to bring his total delegates to 85.

President Hoover picked up 25 more in the Iowa convention and now has 91, all but 11 being instructed or pledged. New York's 11 delegates at large are uninstructed, but are claimed for the president.

Favorite Son Week

Now that Roosevelt has demonstrated a vote-getting ability in the north, west and south, politicians are wondering about his second-choice strength in the states with favorite sons and where uninstructed delegates are in the making. This is highly important in a convention where the two-thirds rule prevails.

The announcement by Senator Barkley of Kentucky declining the support of his state delegation and asking that it back Roosevelt was regarded by observers as significant.

Missouri and Arkansas will trot out their favorites next week. Missouri's convention is expected to name 36 delegates for former Senator James A. Reed, while the state committee in Arkansas probably will swing 18 to Senator Robinson, the senate minority leader and 1928 vice presidential nomineee.

Two other states name delegations next week. In these Roosevelt has been promised support should they be uninstructed. A convention in Iowa, where the state committee has endorsed the New Yorker, will choose 26 delegates. Maine will name 12, and although sentiment there is divided between Roosevelt and Alfred E. Smith, the state party leaders have informed Roosevelt's managers they could count on that delegation.

In all, 92 delegates will be chosen by the Democrats next week, but it will be the first week in a month in which Roosevelt will not have the spotlight to himself.

What course the Garner-for-president boom will take, now that the house Democrats have bolted the speaker's leadership on the tax bill, remains for the future to determine.

Representative Sam Rayburn, national representative of the Garner-for-president Texas committee, told another San Antonio rally recently that a publicity campaign would be started for the speaker, but that was before the house defeat of the sales tax, which commentators interpreted as a setback for Garner prestige.

PICK DELEGATES

Davenport, Iowa, Mar. 26 (AP)—Iowa Democratic leaders today expressed belief the party's state convention here next Tuesday would send an uninstructed delegation to the national convention.

Iowa is entitled to 26 votes at the Chicago convention but will send 30 delegates, 22 from congressional districts and eight at large, with one-half vote each.

Some twenty counties have expressed themselves as favoirng the presidential nomination of Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York and James A. Farley, national campaign manager for Roosevelt, will be here for the gathering.

LEADER IN AUTO INDUSTRY DIES

Henry M. Leland Passes Away in Detroit at Age of 89 Years

Detroit, March 26 (AP)—Henry M. Leland, one of the automobile industry's immortals, died at Grace hospital today, a little more than a month after he had observed his 89th birthday.

Leland's place in the automobile industry was alongside Apperson, Buick, Benz, Daimler, Duryea, Haynes, Selden, Ford, Stearns, Winton and a host of others whose faith brought the making of automobiles through the creative years to rank as the world's first industry.

Tremendous Vitality

Up until a short time before the illness that sent him to the hospital, Leland had continued to take an active interest in his personal affairs as well as civic and industrial problems of Detroit.

Possessed of tremendous vitality Leland survived numerous reverses that would have completely discouraged a much younger man. He was nearing 60 when he became president and general manager of the Cadillac Motor company in 1902. He remained in this post until the Cadillac company became part of the General Motors group in 1917.

He was then 74 when he organized the Lincoln Motor company. During the World War he manufactured the Liberty motors—motors which he said "would have ended the war if the kaiser hadn't run away."

Even before his entry into the automobile industry Leland had numerous inventions to his credit, among them hair clippers, which netted him an increase of 50 cents a day in his wages. In the motor-car industry Leland generally has been given credit for the development of the electric starter and its application to automobiles generally.

Boy Pleads Guilty To Manslaughter

Detroit, Mar. 26 (AP)—Judge John A. Boyne in recorder's court today accepted a plea of guilty of manslaughter on behalf of Edward Lewandowski, 17-year-old Cleveland youth, and announced that sentence would be passed on April 2.

Lewandowski, charged with killing Frank Fergal, 34, in a holdup in north Woodward avenue several months ago, was declared by Dr. I. L. Polozker, director of the psychopathic clinic of the court, to have been "unfairly treated by society." The court last week apparently was prepared to approve of probation for Lewandowski, but the prosecutor's office demanded he stand trial.

Today, by agreement with the prosecutor, he was permitted to plead to the manslaughter charge "in view of the circumstances." He faces a maximum penalty of 15 years imprisonment.

Boy Killed And 3 Persons Injured In Auto Accident

Monroe, Mich., Mar. 26 (AP)—A four-year-old boy was killed and three other persons were injured in an automobile accident on the telegraph road, eight miles north of Monroe, tonight.

James Powis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Powis of Cleveland, was killed instantly. Powis, driver of one of the cars figuring in the accident, suffered a fractured knee. Mrs. Powis was cut. Thomas, 10, another child was cut, and Albert, Jr., 7, and Beatrice, 6, two other children were uninjured.

The accident occurred when Powis tried to pass an automobile driven by T. C. Freidel, of Bryan, O. Both automobiles were going north.

City of Milwaukee is Considering Plan to Enter Bank Business

Milwaukee, Wis., March 26 (AP)—A movement to put the city of Milwaukee in the banking business was initiated today.

Sponsors of the plan vision thrifty citizens carrying their savings to the city hall, giving their pennies and dollars to a municipal teller and having their deposits noted in a city bank book. It is being proposed as "the safest bank which human ingenuity can devise."

Usual bank rates of interest would be paid, and money might be withdrawn virtually on demand.

The suggestion comes from the advisory committee of the socialist mayor, Daniel W. Hoan. It has tentative approval of the mayor, who has urged his committee to ascertain all legal obstacles which the plan might encounter. The committee started today by asking the state banking department whether the city would need a bank charter. The mayor believes the city charter broad enough to allow Milwaukee to enter the business of banking, basing his opinion on a supreme court ruling that Wisconsin cities have authoity to invest municipal funds in railroad securities and other private enterprises.

I. B. Goetz, dealer in bankrupt merchandise who says he is not a socialist, fathered the municipal bank idea.

So far as the depositor is concersed the city hall bank would be an ordinary bank, stressing

Aviation Industry Will Display New Designs This Week

Detroit, March 26 (AP)—The aviation industry will show the public next week what has been done during the year to put the world on wings.

The fifth annual aircraft show opens Saturday at the Detroit city airport and the last word in airplanes, accessories and air transportation aids will be on display through Sunday, April 10.

Twenty-three manufacturers have entered 45 planes in the exhibits—huge commercial transport ships as well as mail, express and sport types. Additional models brought in for demonstration purposes will raise the total of ships on display to more than 100.

Army, Navy Exhibits

Ninety accessory manufacturers will exhibit hundreds of devices—beacon lights, radio equipment, engines, and tires—in addition to informative displays of materials which go into the modern mechanical birds of commerce and sport.

For the first time this year the United States Army and Navy will exhibit their fighting craft. Included in the navy exhibit will be one of the tiny Curtiss fighters designed to be carried on the U. S. S. Akron.

This will be the only aircraft show of the year and unusual plans have been laid to convey to the public the progress that has been made in flying.

Of particular interest is a model air line to be operated over a 60-mile route with stops at four other airports, one in Canada. It will be in operation night and day, giving passengers a transcontinental trip in miniature at a nominal fare. All safety devices of a commercial air line will be utilized, and except for the miles traveled, the pasengers will in effect have traveled over a typical air transportation system.

Pound Sterling In England Improved

London, Mar. 26 (AP)—Financial observers here said tonight that speculation in the pound sterling had been further encouraged by efforts in the American congress to balance the budget of that country.

Increasing doubts regarding financial affairs abroad and increasing confidence in the British financial position were credited with causing the continued speculative rise in sterling, which depreciated after Great Britain went off the gold standard.

Senator Cummings Dies In Centerville

Centerville, Mich., Mar. 26 (AP)—Funeral services will be held here Monday for former state Senator Frank S. Cummings, 72, who died at his home here Saturday morning. Death followed a short illness of influenza and a heart attack.

Long active in Republican circles, Cummings served as county chairman of his party and was a delegate to the national convention in 1908. He was a member of the state pardon board in 1924 and in 1926 was elected state senator from the sixth district, comprised of St. Joseph and Kalamazoo counties.

ARMED BANDITS HOLD UP TRAIN

Passengers Forced to Give Up Valuables To Robbers

San Francisco, Mar. 26 (AP)—Two armed bandits held up the "Lark," Southern Pacific passenger train, just outside the railway yards here tonight, forced passengers riding in the lounge car to give up their valuables, and then leaped from the train.

Officials of the Southern Pacific said one of the bandits leaped from the lounge car at Bayshore tunnel, only a few miles south of the San Francisco yard limits. The other man was believed to have left the train after it entered the tunnel, they said.

The amount of loot obtained in the holdup was not known.

Railroad officials said the train, bound for Los Angeles, would halt at San Jose for a "check-up." The robbers had boarded the train at San Francisco.

About 25 passengers were in the lounge car and were forced at the point of guns to hand over their money and valuables to the bandits, company officials said.

Passengers who were robbed gave authorities a good description of the holdup men, according to the Southern Pacific.

Both bandits were described as young men and masked by handkerchiefs tied over their faces.

Major Points Out Why He Voted For Referendum Plan

Washington, March 26 (AP)—Representative Major (D. Ill) wrote the Illinois State Anti-Saloon League today that "it is inconceivable to me" that members of congress should refuse to vote for re-submission of the 18th amendment.

Major's letter was addressed to the Rev. George B. Safford, state superintendent, in reply to a letter from Safford asking whether his vote for submission in the house on March 14 indicated a change in his prohibition attitude. Major replied in part:

"I am glad to reply to you that it does not. I was not a member of congress at the time of the submission of the 18th amendment, but it has always been my belief that a mistake was made trying to regulate the customs and habits of people by constitutional amendment, and that it is a matter which should be regulated by the several states."

"Soused Mackerel" Proves To Be Booze

New York, Mar. 26 (AP)—A customs guard stopped a man to ask what was in the gallon can he carried.

"Soused mackerel," came the reply. "If you don't believe it, I'll go get a can opener to prove it."

The guard waited long and patiently but the man failed to return.

So he opened the can by force. Inside was a layer of mackerel on top of three bottles of whiskey.

Christ's Resurrection Will Be Observed by Entire Universe Today

(By The Associated Press)

Across a world dark with economic woes and trouble-torn, the Easter message of joy and hope flashed to all Christendom at sunrise today, in cathedrals and cottages of many lands.

Black skies were the predicted greeting in many cities and rain threatened the display of finery.

The bells of Rome's 400 churches yesterday at noon pealed the end of Lent's 40 days of mourning for the death of Christ.

Striking a spark from a flint, Cardinal Pacelli lit the Easter fire at St. Peter's, and blessed the pope's paschal candle, eight feet tall.

Priests passed from house to house in Italian cities, distributing blessings. In the city square of Florence the sacred cart was exploded, following a custom six centuries old. Fireworks on the cart, ignited by wire from the cathedral doorway, roared the ancient promise of fine harvests.

President Hoover planned to arise early in Washington for a sunrise service in Arlington national cemetery. Later he and Mrs. Hoover were to go to Quaker services at the New Friends church.

Sunrise services on the west coast called many thousands to Al Fresco services at dawn, the crowds in San Francisco to climb Mount Davidson and assemble around a large gross.

Nearly a quarter million persons prepared for early gatherings in Southern California. The largest concentrations were slated for the Hollywood bowl, on Mount Rubidoux, near Riverside, and at Point Firmin on San Pedro Bay.

In the deep shadows of Yosemite Valley in the national park, visitors prepared to await at the shore of silvery Mirror Lake until 10 a. m. before the sun should rise high enough to signal ceremonies to begin.

In New York City, fashions and flowers decorated streets and boulevards.

BOOZE RUNNER OFFERS TIP IN KIDNAP AFFAIR

FLEISCHER, WAGNER SEEN ON BOAT, HE ASSERTS

Hopewell, N. J., Mar. 26 (AP)—The nationwide hunt for Harry Fleischer and Abie Wagner, "known kidnapers," was intensified today after a rum-runner told a representative of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh he thought they were the men he saw March 2 on a boat on which a baby was a passenger.

The unidentified man appeared at the famous flier's estate today, refused to talk to state police, and said he would give his information only to Colonel Lindbergh or his representatives.

He told those who talked to him he was sure the two men on the boat were Fleischer and Wagner. He said he identified them after being shown pictures of the pair being sought.

The rum runner is the same man who early this month told the coast guard of his encounter with the mysterious boat 25 miles at sea the day after the infant Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr., was stolen from his home here.

The men asked for a compass, he explained, but when a baby who was below decks cried, the craft sped away.

It was virtually this same story Colonel Schwarzkopf quoted him as telling early today, except that he added the possible identification of the two men.

No Luck In Norfolk

A tip which was termed "almost incredible" started a feverish hunt for the two men in the national capital.

Five men reported a man resembling Fleischer sought lodging shortly before midnight last night at a rooming house on an obscure street in Washington. He was driving, they said, in an automobile containing a woman and baby.

After the man had been turned away because of lack of room, police were notified and detective cars equipped with radio were ordered to hunt the car.

In Norfolk, Va., the Very Rev. Dean H. Dobson-Peacock said that Norfolk intermediaries in the effort to bring about the return of the missing child were still optimistic, but that "there are no developments of any kind."

The minister previously had said, after he and two other prominent Norfolk residents had returned from a trip to the Lind-

Man Arrested For Kidnaping Daughter

Detroit, Mar. 26 (AP)—A police radio broadcast shortly after noon today brought about the arrest of Emilio Conde, of New York City, on a charge of kidnaping his seven year old daughter from in front of his wife's home here. With him police also picked up George Arenas.

Mrs. Hope Conde, separated from her husband, reported to police at noon that the occupants of a car bearing New York license plates had taken the child. Within two hours after the report was broadcast Conde was located. The child with with him.

He told police he drove to Detroit from New York to get the child and take her back with him.

Rushton Delegate To National Convention

In recognition of the distinguished service rendered by him to the state of Michigan, Republicans of the Eleventh Michigan Congressional district, in a pre-convention conference held at St. Ignace yesterday, endorsed Senator H. J. Rushton, of Escanaba, as delegate to the Republican national convention.

Endorsement of Senator Rushton for this honor was proposed to yesterday's conference by A. R. Highstone, of St. Ignace, and came as a complete surprise both to Mr. Rushton and his friends in attendance at the conference.

In a brief address before the conference Mr. Highstone paid a high tribute to the service rendered the Thirtieth senatorial district and the entire state of Michigan by Mr. Rushton as senator, and proposed that as the senator is about to retire from politics it would be fitting that the entire Eleventh congressional district should honor him by naming him as one of the Eleventh district's two delegates to the Republican national convention. The suggestion met with immediate and enthusiastic approval and was unanimously adopted.

Plan for Convention

Representative Republicans of the seven upper peninsula and nine lower peninsula counties, comprising the Eleventh district, met at St. Ignace yesterday to make plans for the district convention, when two delegates and two alternates to the national Republican convention will be elected. Atty. A. L. Sayles, of Newberry, chairman of the Eleventh district Republican committee, presided at the meeting.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., was selected as the scene of the district convention, which will be held at the Lock City on Monday, April 18, when a rousing mass meeting will be participated in by the Republicans of the district and the keynote address of the convention will be delivered by a speaker of national reputation.

Congress May Be Forced To Return For Extra Session

Washington, Mar. 26 (AP)—Facing the possibility of an all-summer session, congressional leaders today determined to focus attention on the revenue and appropriation measures in an effort to complete necessary business before the June conventions.

The leadership is sharply divided over the necessity for a meeting after the national conventions. There is no desire an any side to return but there is such a pile of unfinished business that many believe the summer session will be required.

Senator Watson, of Indiana, the Republican floor pilot, is confident that congress will soon find a solution to the tax and economy problems with which it has been wrestling. He believes the June conventions will see the completion of work.

Bay City Bank To Get New Charter

Bay City, Mich., Mar. 26 (AP)—Chairman Edward J. Whyte announced today that the Michigan state banking department has approved all details, including certain legal technicalities which somewhat delayed the movement last week, preparatory to the issuance of a charter for the reopening of the Bay City bank.

"The banking department has notified us," Mr. Whyte said, "that a charter will be issued just as soon as the owners of 95 per cent of the total deposits have signed the agreement. The reopening of the bank is now in the hands of the depositors." Efforts will be made, he said, to explain the agreement to about 1,000 depositors daily, beginning Monday.

Government Looks Into Finances Of Detroit 'Leggers

Detroit, Mar. 26 (AP)—The internal revenue department, it became known tonight, has begun to look into the financial affairs of known bootleggers and racketeers in the Detroit area.

Liens have been obtained, it was disclosed, against bank accounts and real estate owned by William A. (Black Bill) Tocco. Similar action it was said by federal officers today is contemplated against others.

While Tocco has filed returns each year, the government claims he did not report all of his income. He has a $100,000 home in Grosse Pointe Park and other real estate. The liens operate against Tocco's wife as well, she being part owner of some of the property.

CAPONE'S CASE WILL BE AIRED

Gangster's Prosecutor Will be Called By Senate Comish

Washington, March 26 (AP)—The circumstances under which Al Capone was tried and sentenced for income tax evasion will be investigated next week by a senate committee.

Particular study will be made of the arrangement which was overturned by Judge James H. Wilkerson for Capone to plead guilty and receive a short sentence.

George E. Q. Johnson, district attorney at Chicago, who prosecuted Capone, will appear Tuesday before the senate judiciary sub-committee considering the nomination of Wilkerson as a judge on circuit court.

The committee was told by Frank J. Loesch, president of the Chicago crime commission, that Johnson made an agreement with Capone under which he was to plead guilty and be sentenced to two and a half years.

Loesch said Wilkerson deserved great commendation for his courage in upsetting the agreement and giving Capone an 11-year sentence after trial.

Chairman Borah said Johnson would be questioned about the agreement, but he indicated there were other things the witness would be asked about which he did not care to discuss.

Loesch also charged in a letter to the committee that one of Johnson's assistants, William Parrillo, was a "known partisan of Capone's."

Parrillo, in a telegram to Borah today, demanded that Loesch be called to prove the charge, but the senator replied that the duty of his committee was to consider Wilkerson and not to "pass upon anybody's honesty and fitness" except the nominee.

Bannister Begins Conditioning For New Start In Life

Reno, Nev., Mar. 26 (AP)—Harry C. Bannister, who is going to divorce Ann Harding because he wants to be known for his own accomplishments rather than as the husband of the noted film actress, hopped into the Reno swim today with a vigor unusual in most divorce seekers.

With Tille (Kid) Herman, former prize fighter, as trainer, he began a conditioning routine as part of a program "to get started all over again."

"The announcement by Miss Harding and myself in Hollywood," Bannister said, "told the real and only story of why we are going to be divorced. We agreed that the only way in which I could re-establish myself in the acting profession and avoid being known only as 'Miss Harding's husband' was through a dissolution of our marriage."

Mayor Says Show Posters Indecent

Minneapolis, Mar. 26 (AP)—Mayor William Anderson today took a dislike to the posters advertising opening of the production "Crazy Quilt" at a theatre Sunday night and issued an order revoking the theatre's license.

As a result, the cast, headed by Fanny Brice, Phil Baker and Ted Healy, may be in for a four-day vacation pending the show's opening in St. Paul planned for Thursday.

"It's indecent," the mayor asserted, adding that complaints had come to him from members of the city council and the state legislature.

EXCISE TAXES PASSED TO AID REVENUE BILL

LEADERS UNABLE TO STEM TIDE OF EMBARGOES

BY CECIL B. DICKSON
(Ass'd Press Staff Writer)

Washington, Mar. 26 (AP)—Impotent in their desperate efforts to stop a wild stampede in the house, party leaders were rescued today from complete rout by the instigators of the bi-partisan revolt against the revenue bill.

After a tax had been voted on coal imports, the leaders fought with threats and pleas to stem a flood of tariff proposals. Only when their own chieftains turned to aid the bill's struggling proponents did the sales tax coalition stop the rampage and vote for excise levies carried in the bill.

The house then voted finally, 185 to 14, for the section proposed by acting chairman Crisp of the ways and means committee including levies on imported and lubricating oil, malt, wort, grape concentrates and the coal amendment, expected to yield a total of $83,000,000 in revenue.

Tax Imported Coal

Again resorting to drastic measures to prevent additional onslaughts on the bill, party leaders adjourned the ungovernable and confused house in the middle of the afternoon and deferred further consideration until Tuesday.

Although the hot temper of the membership seemed to have abated as the house convened, it flamed anew when the sponsors of the one-cent a gallon tax on oil imports threw their full force behind the amendment offered by Representative Boland (D. Pa.) of a ten cents a 100 pounds levy on imported coal and coke. It was adopted 113 to 67.

When Representative Parsons (D. Ill.) offered an amendment for a tax on imported flours and it appeared that it would be adopted, Crisp went to the well of the chamber obviously under great emotion.

"This is a sad day for me," he said. "I love my country and I have endeavored to serve her. x x x I also love my party and today I am seeing my party destroy herself.

"I am witnessing my party put on higher tariff rates than even the Republicans put on, putting on embargoes and then going out and criticising the bill."

Representative Hawley of Oregon, ranking Republican on the ways and means committee, followed Crisp and to a restless, noisy chamber said:

La Guardia Supports

"We are engaged in writing a revenue bill for the purpose of balancing the budget of the United States government. I trust that so far as I have any influence with you gentlemen, there will be no more amendments offered that savor of tariff amendments.

Unmoved by these leaders, the insurgents cried for a vote. It was then that the leaders of the revolt came to the assistance of the house leaders.

Representative La Guardia (R. N. Y.), an independent, said:

"We've got to stand by the committee and bring out a bill to raise revenue.

"It is impossible to write a tariff law at this time on the floor of the house. I appeal to my friends on both sides who joined in defeating the sales tax to show

JAP DELEGATES TO COMPROMISE

Prospects for Truce in Shanghai Revived By Decision

BY MORRIS J. HARRIS
(Associated Press Staff Correspondent)

Shanghai, Sunday, Mar. 27 (AP)—Japanese army authorities have tempered their "minimum" armistice demands, it was learned today, reviving hope for a successful outcome of the truce negotiations which have been dragging along here for many days.

It was understood that the military sub-committee of the group negotiating the terms of peace would inform the main committee when it meets on Monday that Japan no longer will insist upon gradual withdrawal of her troops from their present positions. Instead, they are willing to evacuate all the outlying districts immediately, except the nearby roads into the international settlement, and the vicinity of Kiangwan where they want to maintain a patrol.

This revision of the Japanese terms was reported to have been announced at a meeting of the sub-committee late last night.

Break Deadlock

Before this development it appeared that the peace negotiations were very close to a breakdown, for the Japanese and Chinese were deadlocked over the method of troop withdrawals. The Chinese wanted the enemy to get out immediately but the Japanese were insisting upon a gradual withdrawal over a period of six weeks.

There was another complication yesterday when authorities of the Nationalist party at Canton telegraphed the Nanking government urging continued armed resistance to "Japanese aggression" and branding the Japanese peace terms as "humiliating." The telegram announced that the Canton leaders intended to circularize the entire nation urging a united front against the Japanese proposals.

Meanwhile Japanese troops continued on the way out of China by transport. Word from Tokyo said the emperor had directed withdrawal of a considerable part of the forces remaining in the Shanghai sector.

The League of Nations inquiry commission which originally had intended to stay here until an armistice was signed left in two groups yesterday for Nanking.

Brigadier General Frank R. McCoy, the American member, accompanied the French and German representatives to Hangchow, whence they will go on to Nanking by automobile and join the others later in the week.

Vatican City To Have Impressive Easter Services

Rome, Mar. 26 (AP)—Thousands will congregate in the immense basilica of St. Peter's at Vatican City tomorrow for Easter Day mass.

Cardinal Pacelli, high priest, will conduct the ceremonies, which will centralize the Roman Catholic world's expression of joy for the Resurrection of Christ.

The procession of the Three Marys, depicting the visit of the Virgin Mary, Mary Magdalene and Mary the mother of James, to Christ's tomb after the Resurrection will be held here in the afternoon.

Alleged Robbers Killed By Police

Detroit, March 26, (AP)—Two men whom police believed were engaged in house robberies were killed this morning when surprised by patrolmen.

One of them, identified as Leonard Rudd, 27, who served prison terms for breaking and entering in Michigan and Ohio, was shot and killed by Patrolman Kenneth House who discovered him on the rear porch of a house in West Milwaukee avenue.

The other man, a negro, fell through the elevator shaft of an unoccupied apartment house in Cardoni avenue after Patrolman Sparks had fired seven shots at him. The negro was dead when picked up at the bottom of the elevator shaft.

Gypsy Convicted Of Killing Wife

Los Angeles, Mar. 26 (AP)—A jury today convicted Louis Adams, once a power in gypsy circles, of the second degree murder of Princess Annie Adams, his wife.

The princess, whom Adams said he purchased from her brother for $1,750, was slain Dec. 21, in a shack where she lived with John Uwanawich, the brother.

Sentence will be passed on Adams in superior court here next Thursday.

Adams testified he married Princess Annie in a Christian church and that later Uwanawich took her away from him.

Eldorado, Ark., Mar. 26 (AP)—A confession that he threw Miss Ruth Youngblood, 19, Magnolia A. and M. college student, in front of a train last night after attacking her and striking her over the head with a rock, was obtained today, police said, from a man whom they arrested after finding the girl's purse in a box car.

IRISH LEADER PASSES AWAY

Sir Horace Plunkett Dies in England at Age of 77

Weybridge, Surrey, England, Mar. 26 (AP)—Sir Horace Plunkett, Irish leader who promoted cooperative farming in his country and figured in efforts to settle the political differences between Ireland and Great Britain, died here today at the age of 77 years.

His death was without political significance in the present Irish situation.

He long had been out of active politics, having retired from the Irish Free State senate in 1923, after an attempt was made by Irish irregulars to burn his mansion Kilterach, in county Dublin. Thereafter he made his home in England.

Sir Horace's important work was as an Irish leader up to and through the days of the World war. At one time he was chairman of the Irish convention which was called into being during the war—in 1917—to attempt to reach a final settlement of the Irish political question.

Wild Bullets Kill Woman In Harlem

New York, Mar. 26 (AP)—An innocent woman was killed today by gangster bullets that whizzed through Harlem in what police later called an attempt to kidnap a man. One of the men in the affray was accused of participating in the "baby killing" a few blocks away last summer.

This prisoner, Gerald Conroy, 30, a former convict, was charged with homicide in the police lineup and John Dempsey, 27, was charged with aiding and abetting the escape of Conroy, at whom police asserted the bullets were directed.

Conroy said he was going to Connie's Inn with a man named Billy Thomas, when three men fired more than 30 machine gun or revolver bullets from a blue sedan parked near the inn.

The bullets felled Mrs. Lulu Willis, 40, a negress; wounded Conroy in the leg, and grazed the scalp of Frank Burch, 28, a former postal employe.

Indians, English Are Eager To End Nationalist War

New Delhi, India, Mar. 26 (AP)—It appeared today that events were moving to clear the path to peace between India's Nationalists and the British government.

Both sides are eager to end the conflict which has crippled British and Indian business life and has put nearly 40,000 Nationalist leaders in jail.

Hope for restoration of normal conditions was revived suddenly when it was learned that Mrs. Sarojini Naidu, now the president of the Nationalist Congress, had had a long conference yesterday with Viceroy Lord Willingdon after which she hurried to Benares for a talk with Pandit Maidan Mohan Malaviya who next to Gandhi is the most influential Nationalist leader.

IRISH PLANNING PARADES TODAY

Celebrate 16th Anniversary of Easter Rebellion

Dublin, Irish Free State March 26 (AP)—Ten thousand Irishmen with the flag and uniform of the Irish republican army will parade through Dublin tomorrow in company, battalion and brigade formation to celebrate the sixteenth anniversary of the Easter rebellion which brought Eamon de Valera into the spotlight of the world's news.

As president of the Irish Free State De Valera will not participate in the demonstrations, and he will keep the Free State army confined to barracks to avoid the trouble concerning which there is so much apprehension here.

Big Demonstrations

Dublin's celebration will be one of half a hundred throughout the country and only its lack of firearms in tomorrow's parades will prevent the Republican army from appearing as a rival force to the Free State troops.

In Belfast, Newry, Armagh and Tyrone there will be similar big demonstrations with speeches by the political prisoners whom De Valera liberated immediately after he became president.

As the columns march through Dublin from historic St. Stephen's green they will dip their flags and standards in salute, honoring the Republican army garrison which made a memorable stand there in 1916, marking the start of the long and bitter sinn fein warfare.

Eamon de Valera was in command of a little band of picked fighters at Boland's Mill when the Republicans were forced to surrender the postoffice to the British sixteen years ago, and he too was oblidged to surrender. The leaders of that uprising who are now members of his cabinet also will refrain from participating in tomorrow's demonstrations although the cabinet sanctioned the meetings and parades so the Republicans could "let off steam."

TAKE PRECAUTIONS

Belfast, Northern Ireland, March 26 (AP)—The Ulster government has taken unusual precautions to safeguard the splendid new parliament building from possible attack tomorrow when the Irish Republicans will commemorate the Easter rebellion of 1916.

There is a police guard and no one, not even workmen, may approach the building without an official pass.

Clarence Darrow Sick In Honolulu

Honolulu, Mar. 26 (AP)—Clarence Darrow, 75-year old criminal lawyer, is ill and other defense counsel for Mrs. Granville Fortescue, New York society woman, feared tonight his long trip from Chicago will avail their case little.

Darrow, who appeared in court yesterday in jovial humor to ask a week's delay in the second degree murder trial of Mrs. Fortescue and three naval men, did not sleep last night and was confined to his bed all of today.

This afternoon three navy doctors from Pearl Harbor called on him at his hotel. He suffered from a stomach ailment which may be temporary.

day's conference, went on record, in no uncertain terms, against any action by the state legislature at the special session opening at Lansing on Monday, to divert, in any measure, present state highway funds. Spokesmen for both lower and upper peninsula counties called attention to the injustice that would be worked against northern Michigan and peninsula counties, by legislation that will disturb the present highway maintenance and construction program.

It was pointed out that the demand for diversion of funds now received by the state highway department from the automobile weight tax, will be made before the legislature largely by lower state counties whose highways have been largely completed. It was pointed out that northern Michigan and peninsula counties have been forced for years to wait for the completion of modern paved highways about the most populous centers of the lower peninsula and now, when it is possible to begin the building of greatly needed pavements outstate, legislation is being urged by the one hundred percent paved counties that will practically bring to a standstill Michigan's highway construction program.

Dollar Ferry Charge

Recognizing the desirability of uniting the two peninsulas of Michigan as closely as possible, through the state-owned ferries crossing the Straits of Mackinac, a resolution was adopted by representatives of sixteen Michigan counties yesterday asking the state administrative board to reduce the ferry charge for carrying automobiles, to a maximum of $1. It was pointed out transportation between the two peninsulas is being hampered by the present ferry rates and a strong belief was expressed that if the ferry charge should be reduced to a maximum of one dollar for each automobile, there would be no loss in revenue, because of the greatly increased number of cars and passengers that would use the ferry service. It was pointed out that the state-owned ferries constitute a part of the state highway system and that a profit should not accrue to the state from the operation of that service.

Justice Held On Charge Of Selling Liquor In Office

Battle Creek, Mar. 26 (AP)—Justice of the Peace Arthur Day, of Marshall, was in jail here tonight, charged by federal prohibition agents with having turned his combination office and courtroom into a speakeasy.

He and another man, said by the federal agents to have served as bartender, were arrested at Marshall today when officers raided the justice's office in a downtown business block. The officers said they confiscated a small quanity of liquor. Both men were charged with violating the national prohibition act. They will be arraigned Monday before U. S. Commissioner O. Scott Clark.

Justice Day has held his office for several years and is a candidate for re-election next spring. He is a retired farmer and has been handling civil cases in Marshall. There are two other justices in the village.

STUDENTS ASK FOR SUPPORT

Second Group Ordered To Leave Bell County, Kentucky

Knoxville, Tenn., March 26. (AP)—An appeal to faculty members and student bodies over the nation for support in their fight to get into the strife-torn Kentucky coal fields for "sociological research" was spread here today by leaders of two groups of college students who were ejected from the mine area last night and today.

At the same time the steering committees of the two groups, which merged here, prepared a telegraphic appeal to Governor Laffoon of Kentucky to grant them safe passage to Frankfort by some route other than through the coal fields, and to give them an appointment there.

Both groups charged they were roughly handled and bundled out of the state without legal process by Kentucky officers headed by County Attorney W. B. Smith of Bell county.

Whether they go to Frankfort or not, said Bob F. Hall, Columbia student, who led the first group to Middleboro, Ky., and back here last night, the parties plan to go to Washington to ask a congressional investigation of "Lynch law" in Bell and Harlan counties. They also intend to seek some action from the British embassy in the case of Gabriel Garritt, a Columbia scholarship student from Oxford and a British subject, who, they said, was struck by a Bell county deputy last night.

the virtue of thrift and soliciting savings accounts. But investment of the bank's deposits would be limited to bonds of the city and county of Milwaukee, Goetz said. Bond issues in Milwaukee are restricted to five per cent of the assessed valuation of property.

Municipal and county bonds ordinarily pay interest of 4 to 4.75 per cent.

The depositor in the city bank would get 3 per cent. There would be margin enough to pay expenses of the bank, and perhaps for some little profits which ultimately might be applied to tax reduction, sponsors of the plan assert.

The bank's securities should do much to coax hoarded dollars from hiding, Goetz said, adding it would be as sound as the city hall cornerstone.

The bank plan must receive authorization from the city council. It is expected to meet opposition there of commercial banking institutions.

Chicago Symphony Musicians Given Release Notices

Chicago, March 26, (AP)—Musicians of the Chicago Symphony orchestra today were given notices of discharge.

The discharge notices told the musicians their services would no longer be needed when the season ends four weeks hence.

The orchestra employs 105 musicians and has been organized for 41 years.

A civic campaign recently was started to collect funds to enable the symphony organization to continue.

Los Angeles, Mar. 26 (AP)—Two initiative petitions, one providing an initiative for repeal of the penal provisions of the Volstead act, from California laws, were filed today with William M. Kerr, registrar of voters.

The other petition proposed a state constitutional amendment prohibiting saloons and authorizing state liquor traffic regulation in the event the state law is repealed and federal laws permit.

FROM THE CRITICS—

MAE TINEE—

Don't let that title fool you. The "past" isn't what you think it is.

An unfamiliar Constance Bennett greets you in this photoplay. A gentle, hesitant, soft speaking Constance who still wears gorgeous gowns—gorgeously!—but who, though lovely to gaze upon, can attract a man but for a moment and hold him not at all.

In other words, Miss Bennett as Venice Muir (named thus because her parents spent their honeymoon in Venice) is a social flop.

It takes gay Paree plus a lot of attention of one kind and another from Mr. Ben Lyon to do for Constance what needs to be done.

The cast indicates correctly that there are many males in the offing of the lady's life, but the picture is well under way before they begin to flit and hover and scorch their wings at the flame so zealously tended by young Mr. Lyon.

Though the story of "Lady with a Past" carries few surprises and is not particularly believable, the film as a whole is pleasing. IT IS CLEAN, well dressed and acted and wears its air of sophistication with a grace fostered by able direction.

'Lady With a Past'

RATING: EXCELLENT

Now Constance Bennett fans have something to cheer about. "Lady With a Past" is undoubtedly Miss Bennett's best cinema contribution to date. Previously the glamorous Connie has carried weak stories by sheer histrionic ability and charm.

Miss Bennett is surrounded by a capable supporting cast, but it is indeed of minor importance compared to the star and the now sensational Ben Lyon.

This "Lady With a Past," I predict, will be one of the most popular films of the season.

POTATOES ARE VALUABLE CROP

Specialist Coming to Delta County Next Thursday

Tips on potato growing will be given to Delta county farmers next week by J. J. Bird, extension specialist, who will be in the county Thursday, March 31. Meeting places will be selected by county farm agent J. E. Turner, and will be announced later.

Questions regarding varieties suited to the peninsula, late and early, seed selection, treating, planting, tillage digging and storage, will be covered. Mr. Bird points out that the yield per acre is the greatest determining factor in potato growing profits. It costs 65c to grow the average bushel of potatoes in Michigan, but the cost is cut to 25c when the yield is 300 bushels or more per acre.

Here is the status of the potato in Michigan, as reviewed by the agricultural extension department:

1. World's leading food crop in point of quantity production.
2. Michigan's leading cash crop in value. $23,000,000.
3. Area production in bushels.
   (a) Upper peninsula 10%.
   (b) Lower peninsula 90%.
4. Michigan acreage declining 2.5% per year for last 10 years.
5. Off seasons and poor production practices throughout the state have combined to cause the Michigan potato to lose some of its former prestige on many tablestock markets.
6. Michigan potatoes of adapted varieties grown under recommended production practices during normal seasons have proved equal to any on the market in appearance and cooking quality.

Helping Mother, Girl Burned, Dies

Eight-year-lod Guinevere Boyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Boyd, Norway, died at the Penn hospital in Norway, as the result of burns received while "playing house" in the kitchen of her home, her clothes were ignited by a towel that came in contact with the stove.

Mrs. Boyd was busy in the kitchen with the weekly washing. Guinevere was with her. The day was fair, and Mrs. Boyd went into the yard to hang up the clothes.

A few moments later she heard a scream from within the house. She rushed inside and found Guinevere under the bed in a room adjoining the kitchen her clothes aflame. Mrs. Boyd herself was severely burned about the hands and arms in removing the child from under the bed and beating out the flames.

Later investigation showed that the child, helping her mother, as she thought, with the weekly wash, used a towel to remove a dishpan from the stove. The towel caught fire, the blaze reaching the child's dress. She then ran and took refuge under the bed.

Besides the parents, two sisters and five brothers survive. They are Mrs. H. Squires, Thompson, Mich., Miss Dorothy, at home, Edward, of Manistique, John, of Wilson and Stephen, Herbert and Morris, at home.

Public Official, But Can't Lose His Job

Dumas, Tex., (AP)—H. G. Bennet, Moore county attorney, is one public official who doesn't worry about losing his job.

He is the only licensed attorney in the county, and under Texas law the only one of more than 2,000 residents qualified for the office.

Bennet has other claims to distinction, one being that he stands 6 feet 7 inches.

GOING TO RUSSIA

ABOUT twenty-five residents of the Rock community, it is reported, are now engaged in disposing of their material possessions to obtain cash to pay for their transportation to Russia, where they will participate in the soviet government's great social experiment.

For several years, they have lived in this country, tilling the soil on their farms, working in the woods and at other occupations. They have been allowed to live in their own way without molestation from governments and other people, and under our capitalistic system of government they have been able to accumulate a certain amount of wealth. They have enjoyed the same freedom and protection from this government as any other citizen.

In the meantime, however, they have absorbed the Communistic propaganda that has been spread throughout the land, and now long to be in Russia, which to them has been painted as a workers' paradise. They sincerely believe that Russia is a better place in which to live than America, and considering that they feel that way there should be no effort to stop their going there.

No doubt, these people are so taken up with the Communistic cause that they are willing to forego pleasure and comforts in order to help the soviet government accomplish its Utopian plan. Such devotion to a cause is deserving of admiration from even us Americans, who think so lightly of the problems of our government that we neglect to vote on election day.

So let us say, "Bon Voyage," to those who are about to leave our shores. Just like those who departed for America three centuries ago, these residents of Rock and other upper peninsula communities hope to find happiness eventually in the Soviet state. And they have a right to hope.

WORK IS PRAISED

THE work of the Children's Fund of Michigan, in promoting health and better social conditions in the state, receives high praise from the Iron River Reporter, in an editorial appearing in that newspaper recently.

Delta county, too, is aware of the wonderful service performed by the Children's Fund for it has been this county's good fortune to be selected as one of the places for the Fund's dental project. Dr. H. I. Miller, Children's Fund dentist, has been engaged in the dental program in this county for a couple years, and previously the work was carried on by Dr. Collins. Since the project was started, there has been a decided improvement in the dental health of the children in Delta county schools, and what is also important is that the general public has been pretty well educated as to the need of proper care of teeth.

"The Children's Fund of Michigan is one of the most unselfish and thoroughly humanitarian institutions of its sort in the world," the Iron River Reporter declares. "It exemplifies social service of the highest order and during the short time it has operated in the state it has become known as one of the greatest single forces for good health."

"FRIEND IN NEED"

A GLOWING tribute to the home town merchant, who stands out as one of the humble heroes of the present crisis, is paid by B. C. Forbes, well known writer on business topics, in a syndicated article, appearing recently in various newspapers.

In every American community, Mr. Forbes writes, there are merchants who are "carrying" families utterly unable to pay. These merchants were born and raised locally. They don't give credit because they figure it is good business. They do so because they know John Smith and Bill Jones have lost their jobs and cannot pay.

They have known John Smith and Bill Jones from schools days. They know that John Smith and Bill Jones are at heart honest fellows, who pay when they have the money. But they know that John Smith and Bill Jones have been out of work for months, and that unless they extended this credit their families would suffer. The merchants today are feeding more people, without remuneration, than all welfare organizations combined.

And that is a good thing to remember when some out-of-town canvasser comes to your door to solicit business away from the home town merchant, who does not demand a down payment with your order and the balance when the goods are delivered. Do your business with the established business men in your town; the fellows who pay a large share of the taxes and contribute to every other worthwhile community project. But close the door to all strange peddlers.

FREE STATE FERRIES?

(Sault Ste. Marie News)

SOME sweet day, when sufficient state highways have been paved in the Upper Peninsula to insure that every principal city and resort shall be connected and shall be available to tourists, the proceeds from the various automobile taxes might well be turned to providing rides on the state ferries at the straits of Mackinac.

Until that time it is not probable that the state legislature or the state highway department will consent to adding the operation of the ferries to the taxpayers' burden.

Naturally the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau and every citizen would be pleased with any action which would encourage tourists to enter northern Michigan more freely. Free ferry service would come in this category. It would be a great contribution by the taxpayers of the state of Michigan to the motoring public. And traffic at the straits would be increased considerably, without question.

Whether or not such a move, at a time when the taxpayers are calling for relief and when upper peninsula cities are calling for pavement, would be a good thing for the upper peninsula is a matter easily subject to dispute, despite the fact that the officers of the Development Bureau were unanimous in their request for such free service.

For the last fiscal year, according to the report of the state treasurer, the disbursements by the state for ferry service at the straits of Mackinac totalled $450,982. Revenues from the ferries for the same period totalled $474,289. Had the ferries been free to the tourists and others who crossed the straits, the ferry costs would have been added to the taxes. Whether or not an addition of that much money would have come from increased tourist trade is problematical.

The state of Michigan should not make a profit from the ferry service, certainly. But, until conditions are more favorable to the taxpayers than at present, and there is less need of using the gasoline and weight tax money for pavements and other improved highways, it would seem somewhat out of order to eliminate all tolls from the ferries. No more enjoyable trip exists in America for a tired motorist than that across the straits on the state ferry. It is worth any tourist's money at present prices.

However, the effort of the Development Bureau is a worth while one for eventual results. It is true, as a prominent Development Bureau official states, that the ferry is "in reality a portion of the state's great highway system" and that from that viewpoint no more toll should be charged than for bridges across other streams and bodies of water. When the needed roads are built and the tolls at the ferries are found a considerable bar to tourist and citizen traffic at the straits, then the time be more propitious for making the ferries free. For then the gasoline tax paid by the tourists will be released to pay for the ferry operation.

The consumption of beer in England has declined so far they're considering passing a prohibition act to bring a return to normalcy.

LYRICS OF LIFE

By Douglas Malloch

(Copyright 1932 by Douglas Malloch)

SEEN NOR HEARD

The window looks upon a lawn,
But now the velvet grass is gone,
And there is nothing now but snow
Where red, red roses used to grow.
Upon the tree is not a leaf,
All sombre in its wintry grief,
But in its branches sits a bird,
As though it had not seen nor heard.

Life has its moments, more than earth,
When days of joy, when things of worth
Have vanished, as the summer flow'rs,
From some beloved place of ours,
But, when your summertimes depart,
I hope love sits within your heart
As sits the bird upon the tree,
As though you did not hear nor see.

Today some sudden wind may blow
And turn your little world to snow,
Some word unkind, some deed untrue—
And yet the bird sees winter through.
Oh, can you not, remembering
The past, as birds remember spring,
Forgive the act, forget the word,
As though you had not seen nor heard?

THE DIME-A-DANCE GIRL

(By NEA Service) BY JOAN CLAYTON

CHAPTER XLVI

FOR an instant Ellen thought she must faint. A feeling of nausea swept over her and her arms dropped to her sides. She fell back weakly, helplessly.

Larry was at her side, his arms around her.

"Water! Bring water," he called frantically.

Fergus brought a tumbler and the distracted Larry bathed the girl's pale face. He held the water to her lips. Still bewildered, still in a world of half-consciousness, horribly frightened and sick, Ellen drank it. Larry half-carried her to an adjoining bedroom, settled her on a frilled chaise longue.

She knew that he was beside her, that his hand held her hand, that he was fanning her. But Ellen could only lie still, her eyes closed, her breath rising and falling unevenly for a long time.

"He didn't tell you," she whispered after a while, without opening her eyes.

"Who told me? What?"

Ellen loked up then and saw that Larry was kneeling on the floor beside her. Mrs. Harrowgate was there, too.

"What came over you?" the older woman inquired curiously.

"It must have been the heat," Ellen managed to say.

"That room is a roaring furnace," Larry said sharply. "It was all I could do to keep from passing out myself."

"I'm all right now," Ellen announced shakily, sitting up and smoothing her disordered hair. "I'm sorry to have been such a lot of trouble."

"No trouble at all," Mrs. Harrowgate assured her politely. "I can't tell you how sorry I am though that it had to happen."

But Ellen felt confident that her concern was affected. She looked from Mrs. Harrowgate to Larry. There was nothing artificial in his anxiety. How she loved him! How impossibly cruel that something which had happened long ago might make him cease to love her. If she had only told him everything that day in the studio—

For a moment she clung to the wild hope that Fergus had not recognized her. But she knew there had been recognition in those cold eyes. What did he mean to do? Even as she was wondering the butler entered the room. He carried a pair of gloves.

"I believe these are yours, miss," he said, advancing toward her.

* * *

ELLEN'S heart beat violently. She tried to brace herself for anything the man might say or do. She stared at him with growing panic and tried to read his face. There was nothing there to read except servile impersonality. Larry reached to take the gloves but Fergus, quicker, dropped them in Ellen's lap, turned and left the room, his back stiff and inscrutable as his eyes had been.

Ellen drew a long trembling breath.

"You don't care much for Fergus, do you?" Larry observed. "I don't myself. He's so quiet he gives me the jimmies."

"He's a capable servant," Mrs. Harrowgate commented. "Steven liked him. Are you sure you feel all right now?" she continued, addressing Ellen.

The girl nodded. "I think I'd better go home now," she said.

She and Larry departed, Ellen clinging to his arm and assuring Mrs. Harrowgate that her faintness had disappeared as suddenly as it had come. They were waiting for the elevator before Larry had his chance to speak.

"I asked you before," he said hesitantly. "What did you mean when you said 'So he didn't tell you?' "

Ellen was resting a little against Larry's arm. Her eyes were raised to his. She was exquisitely conscious of everything about her, of the green walls, of the shining brass door of the elevator and the soft, luxurious carpet.

"I didn't mean—anything," she whispered.

Silently they went through the entrance way to the street that was a crystal canyon of ice and snow. Ellen's gloves were crumpled in her hands. Nervously she began to draw them on and felt in the left glove the crackle of paper. She remembered with a throb of fear how Fergus had avoided Larry's grasp to drop the gloves in her lap. Several times as they rode toward the apartment she stole glances at him, thinking he looked pale and tired and wondering what was in that left glove held so tightly in her palm.

There was no opportunity to find out until after Larry had left her. The instant the door closed behind him she turned the glove inside out. A bit of paper fell into her hand.

Written upon it were the following words:

"I'll see you at your home at eight o'clock. Be there."

The girl dropped the message to the floor, stopped, picked it up and crumpled it into a savage ball which she hurled into the wastebasket. Without troubling to remove her coat, still adorned with Larry violet's, she began to walk up and down the living room. The place was bleakly cold and the whole apartment filled with brooding quiet. When Ellen snapped on the lights she saw Molly had left a note for her on the library table. Molly and Myra had gone to the movies.

"If Bert comes for Myra ask him to wait," Molly had written.

* * *

ELLEN crossed to the bedroom, looked inside and observed that Mike was sound asleep, his arms flung youthfully over his head. She entered to adjust the window and shut out the freezing air. She pulled the tumbled bedcovers back into place, half-hoping that her young brother would waken, but Mike only stirred restlessly. She brushed his hair back from his forehead and thought that he looked rosy and well again. Soon he would be able to get about without the crutches. A hot, wet tear dropped on the cheek of the sleeping boy, but he did not waken.

Ellen returned to the living room, lighted the gas in the grate and lay down on the divan to stare at the ceiling.

Suddenly it was September again. Steven lay dead in a curtained bedroom of the lavish Long Island house. Ellen saw herself in that hateful sitting room watching Fergus pack her traveling case—a pale, shamed girl, mad with grief and humiliation, who wanted to escape, to run away from an impossible situation. She saw now that she had allowed her own lack of courage to persuade her that a part of her life could be hidden as if it had never existed. She had been wrong about that. That part of her life was as real as any other part. It lived in her own memory and in the memory of a loathsome, suspicious man who was coming to remind her of it. He was coming to remind her that it might cost her the most precious thing in life.

The sky outside grew darker and darker. Snow began to fall invisibly in the darkness.

Suddenly Ellen sprang up and ran downstairs to the telephone. Frantic with restlessness, tapping one foot impatiently as she waited, she called Symes' office. His secretary told her she thought Mr. Symes had gone for the day. Ellen left a message on the chance he might return, a message the lawyer could not fail to understand. Then she went upstairs again.

* * *

SHE was still alone when eight o'clock arrived, and with it, prompt to the minute, came Fergus. Seeing him, a small, ugly man in neat blue serge, shook Ellen's courage. The composure of her greeting hid trembling terror. The man carried two strapped bags. He did not leave her long in doubt as to his mission.

"I got to get out of town," he stated baldly, "and I'm stony. I thought maybe you'd lend me $100 or so."

"Just what made you think I would do that?" she asked sharply.

"I can't stand around all day talking about ifs and ands," Fergus answered roughly. "I need money and you've got to lend it to me."

Ellen heard the loud ticking of the clock and the drip of a kitchen faucet. She heard the hoarse sound of Fergus' breathing. A way out! Oh, there must be some way out!

"I guess I know my rights," said Fergus abruptly.

"Your rights to what?"

"Look here," the butler resumed plaintively, "You don't get me at all. I don't want to tell Mr. Harrowgate where you were the night his uncle died. Going to a girl's sweetheart with a story like that is the last thing I'd want to do!"

"Don't bother to lie," Ellen said contemptuously. "You'd want to go anywhere you could get money. You've been to Larry already. You've written to him and taken money from him anonymously. You haven't even the courage to speak up openly!"

"Never mind about that," Fergus responded sullenly. "That's done. The money's gone. I wish to God I had it now but I haven't. I've got to blow town, I tell you. Something's come up so I've got to clear out. You stake me to a railroad ticket and you're through with me. You'll never see me again, never hear from me again. Neither will Larry."

"You'll get no money from me now or ever," Ellen declared.

"Maybe if I went to Mr. Harrowgate he wouldn't feel that way!"

Ellen turned away. She clenched her two hands and felt the hardness of the engagement ring. This was the end, she thought, the end of everything. She knew that if Fergus carried out his threat and went to Larry she could not lie. To evade the truth was difficult enough. To look into Larry's gray eyes and tell him an untruth was impossible.

NEW COTTON CROP

Rockingham, N. C.—The chemistry department of the University of North Carolina is experimenting with a "combination cotton crop." On a 10-acre field near here the cotton is sown broadcast like grass seed. The mature cotton is mown like hay and the entire plant, cotton, stalk and leaves, is converted into cellulose. From this explosives, paper, artificial silk and other articles are made. No spinning or picking is required.

It is thought that a full moon weakens radio signals.

FOCH MADE COMMANDER

On March 28, 1918, General Ferdinand Foch was made commander-in-chief of the Allied armies in France. General Pershing assured Foch of complete cooperation of American forces.

The announcement of Foch's appointment was a cheering note after the German official bulletins announced the storming of Albert in the great battle raging in Picardy.

German news sources claimed another complete victory and reported that British forces were rapidly losing morale and were noticeably lacking in reserves.

Montdidier fell into the hands of the Germans after a bitter struggle which had lasted for more than two days.

Several fresh French divisions were ordered to join the British to stem the German tide.

The German war office announced that more than 75,000 prisoners and 600 heavy guns had been taken in the drive.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE DELFT

Gay and brilliant, "Lady With a Past," the new attraction at the Delft Theatre, is another Constance Bennett starring hit. A modern comedy strongly dashed with romance, it is played against colorful, fashionable backgrounds and provides the dazzling blonde star with a perfect vehicle.

For the first time in a considerable period, Miss Bennett is not cast as a poor working girl or an erring sister who has fallen and been redeemed by love. She is cast as a wealthy member of a fashionable social set in this RKO Pathe production, and is thoroughly convincing, as well as altogether lovely in the part. One big advantage of the new characterization, which all feminine fans will appreciate, is the opportunity it affords the star of wearing beautiful, modish costumes from the first scene to the last.

Based upon Harriet Henry's latest novel, "Lady With a Past," tells the very human story of a love-hungry girl who cannot attract men because she is shyer and more serious than the other beauties in her social set. When she sees the most eligible males ed for her own, flock about an including the man she has mark obvious siren who was once suspected of having murdered her husband, she is about ready to give up.

A trick of circumstances puts her in Paris, and there, under the expert tutelage of a gay gigolo, she blossoms into a real charmer and through no fault of her own acquires a "past" which rivals that of the suspected husband-poisoner.

Peninsula Paragraphs

By Marjorie Huntoon Morrill

EASTER LILY

No other flower can ever be
Concerned with Immortality
And in its fragrant cup can hold
A secret made of purest gold.

Here is Heaven offered up
Within this fragile petaled cup;
Forget the Winter of your Pain
And quaff the Wine of Life again.

* * *

In the florist shops, the stores and markets of our beloved peninsula the snowy Easter Lily has been sold this week. The churches are gracing them by giving to them the honor of decoration. They are purchased to tell some one we love them. They are sent to Mother, to Wife, to Sister, to Friend.

* * *

Easter. Hope. Spring. The eternal symbols of life forever. We went into a market and in exchange for some pieces of silver took a pot of beauty home with us. No one in all the world makes a better bargain than when they spend "cold cash" for a pot of flowers.

* * *

"Cold cash." Through the wonder of some odd sort of magic it becomes something warm and lovely. And more than that; the person who sold it to us took from us something more than cash. There was a subtle exchange of understanding between salesman and purchaser; it is as though we said wordlessly to each other; here is a remarkable fact which we understand but will not mention at this moment. Maybe after a while, when we have time and are not surrounded with persons buying pork chops and beans, we shall get together and talk it over.

* * *

Nor does it matter that we never do . . . . Today many of our people arose early and went to their churches. The bells, ringing hopefully through the brisk air, had called them in tones that for some odd reason sounded clearer and sweeter than last week. Inside the churches the lily greeted them with its fragrance and its tall and slender dignity.

* * *

Many of us will sit down to a dinner table where the Easter Lily has the place of honor at the board, presenting to us a feast for the eye and reminding us of the trueness of beautiful things. If we have the proper spirit and will listen carefully we may be able to detect small notes coming from the slender trumpets of bloom . . . .

* * *

If we have the nerve to mention this music,—well, we shall learn a few things about those who happen to be with us. It is easy enough to know how the children will take it. They understand, being close to beauty in their thought at all times. Some will bear with us,—patiently. Some will look a bit foolish as though they had come upon us when in a moment of weakness we were prinking blushlessly before a mirror. And some will answer us in quiet understanding. Bless such as they!

Anyone of the lumber supply dealers advertising in this section can show you how a modernization as marked as the one pictured can be wrought in your home. No obligation for their suggestions. Cost estimates gladly furnished.

Why Wait?

Everything is to your advantage to have those needed home repairs made now. Costs are the lowest and service the best. Then, too, you may as well be enjoying the added comfort and convenience now. "ASK ANYBODY"

Number of Projects Already Under Way

HOME OWNER REAPS BENEFITS OF LOWER PRICES; RISE DUE LATER IN YEAR

Here and there around Escanaba, building projects are starting to get under way, evidence that local residents are taking advantage of the opportunities offered for savings in construction, made possible this year by lower prices in materials and labor.

Several of the older style homes in Escanaba are to be modernized, both by exterior and interior remodeling, and a number of projects have already started. Business places are also finding that "now's the time to build" and there are store fronts contracted for as well as interior improvements and installations of new equipment.

A prominent local builder says:

"We in the building business all have been asked whether the absolute bottom has been reached in building prices. While we must have been dubious for some time past now, we have no doubt as to what lies immediately ahead."

"Through close contact with the actual situation and markets we have observed indications which warn us that a turn in building costs is near."

Pre-War Prices

"The factors indicating this are that labor costs have been lower in most instances in the last year than in pre-war days. General contractors have disregarded profits in taking building work. Their only objective has been to keep their organizations together. Firms handling building materials have taken tremendous losses. Stocks on hand have been moved at any cost to liquidate current obligations to banks and others."

"When the present supplies in the hand of material men and manufacturers of such have been exhausted, building materials cannot be reproduced for the price at which they are now being sold to contractors.

"Under present conditions, general contractors have been passing along savings to those who were desirous of building, but these conditions cannot keep on for long. Resumption of a fair demand for materials, supplies and labor which goes in a building is bound to have an effect, and the safe conclusion is that the prospective home builder will reap some very material benefits if he contracts for his work immediately."

"Cherryblossom" In Two Showings During this Week

The operetta, "Miss Cherryblossom," a musical comedy in three acts, will be presented in the William W. Oliver Auditorium at two separate performances during the coming week. There will be a matinee on the afternoon of Wednesday, March 30, and the final performance will be at 8:15 o'clock on Friday evening, April 1. The operetta is being given by the girls' and boys' glee clubs of the Senior high school and the girls' glee club of the Junior high school. It is directed by R. P. Bowers and Miss Ruth Sundwick, assisted by Miss Elaine McDermand, Miss Lois Gaut and E. John Nicholas. The accompaniment will be by the Senior high school orchestra of twenty pieces.

The story of the operetta centers around Miss Evelyn Barnes, and American girl born in Japan. Her parents both die of fever and she is brought up as a Japanese maiden. Her father's secretary, Horace Worthington, uses her property for his own ends. When Evelyn, who is known in the operetta as Cherryblossom, is about 18, Worthington returns to Japan with a party of American friends. One of them, John Henry Smith, falls in love with Cherryblossom and wishes to marry her, but Kokemo, who has brought her up as his own daughter, wants her to marry Togo, a native poltician. Much wit and humor are produced by John Henry Smith trying to outwit the crafty old Kokemo. Eventually, Cherryblossom learns her true identity, comes into her property and marries young Smith.

Effective Staging

Melodies of "Miss Cherryblossom" are tuneful and the lines are extremely clever. The part of Miss Cherryblossom will be played by Melba Anderson at one performance and by Mercedes Leduc at the other. Both of these girls fitted so admirably into the part that it was impossible to eliminate either. Kokemo, the comedian, is played by Richard Carlton. Escanaba audiences were familiar with his solo work as a boy soprano but this will be the first chance many have had to hear him as a baritone soloist. John Henry Smith is played by Edward Lucas who will be remembered by many for his excellent work in the operetta given last year. Henry Foster Jones, Jack's pal, is played by Elmer Nelson and is teamed with Vivian Gleisner as Jessica Vanderpool. Together they furnish some fine comedy. Togo, a pompous and overly dignified politician, is played by John Duranceau, well known as a member of the German and "Rube" bands. This is his first appearance as a vocal solist. The parts of Horace Worthington and James Young, his secretary, are taken by Ralph Sundquist and Kenneth Thompson.

Staging of this operetta will be much simpler and more effective than in former years through the use of the large stage in the new auditorium. A Japanese tea garden forms the general setting and special sky and cherry tree effects are being worked out.

Choruses and the orchestra are from the music groups at both the Junior and Senior high schools.

A ticket selling campaign is planned and will be conducted by the students who are taking part in the production. In keeping with other school activities the admission prices for the operetta will be very nominal. No reservation of seats will be made for the matinee performances and reservations for the Friday evening performance will begin at the ticket office in the Junior high school on Wednesday morning.

The Resurrection

By Walter W. Mayer

It is the Resurrection Morn;
Three days have passed since that dark hour,
When from the cross our Lord was borne,
To rise again in endless power.
Faint gleams of light now streak the skies,
While all the earth seems hushed in sleep
And unaware that angel eyes
Their silent constant vigil keep.

Athwart the entrance to the tomb
In which the Savior's body lay
A heavy stone seals up the room,
For fear his foll'wers take away
His body secretly, and claim
He rose immortal from the grave.
Thus to escape all fear of blame
They sealed the tomb that Joseph gave.

But lo! An earthquake rolls away
The stone that entrance might deter
And presently in white array
Two angles guard the sepulcher.
With heavy hearts the way to point
The loving, faithful women come
They bring sweet spices to anoint
The body of the Holy One.

"Whom seekest thou? Why dost thou weep?
The angel doth of Mary pray.
"My Easter, Him indeed I seek,
For they have taken Him away."
And as she turns her eyes behold
The Risen Lord, in glad surprise,
Who, as Re preached had oft foretold
That from the tomb he would arise.

Note: The verse by Walter W. Mayer of Wells, is a beautiful expression of the spirit of Eastertide.

A Book A Day

By Bruce Catton

In "The Tragedy of Henry Ford" Jonathan Norton Leonard undertakes to debunk the world's most famous industrialist. Whether or not he succeeds is something each reader must decide for himself. Certainly the book is a sharply critical piece of work.

Ford, says this writer, is an extremely limited man who has had just one good idea—the idea that there is a tremendous market for automobiles if only they are priced cheaply enough.

He got this idea back at the dawn of the present century, and made it his guiding star. It made the Ford Motor Co. the greatest firm of its kind on earth and made Ford the world's richest man. But Ford himself, the writer insists, contributed that idea and nothing more.

Ford, he says, is not a mechanic, not a financial genius, not a clear-thinking economist, not a skilled industrialist. During the period of his rise, he says, he leaned on men like Couzens and the Dodge brothers; when they left him his troubles began and today Mr. Leonard calls him just another automobile manufacturer.

Mr. Leonard gives plenty of space to such unfortunate episodes in Ford's life as the peace ship, the Jew-baiting campaign and the Chicago Tribune libel suit. He is also violently critical of working conditions at the Ford plant, and he has bitter things to say about Ford's "paternalism" toward his workers.

You may find the book unfair, in spots, but you'll not find it uninteresting anywhere.

Easter Prayer

BY HELEN WELSHIMER

HELP us to find a cross somewhere,
Since it is Easter day,
Where we may nail the foolish fears
That we should throw away.
Teach us, dear God, that bright green rain
Will always come with spring.
There will be sunlight on old fields—
Keep us remembering!

MAY we forget the petty trials,
Dreams gone, brief hurt, deep loss;
And turn where lilies climb the air
To hide a bleeding cross.
For hope is born when lilacs bloom
Rain-sweet in early spring,
And faith that found an empty tomb
Can conquer anything!

To Attend Meet

Iron Mountain—M. J. Fox, head of the von Platen-Fox Lumber company, will be among those attending a "showdown" conference to be held in Milwaukee on March 29 and 30 to learn the attitude of important timber land owners of Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota regarding the tax delinquency situation.

The conference has been called by Earl W. Tinker, federal regional forester, who has invited 50 land owners and representatives of wood using industries to be present.

Tinker said he will ask these men to "lay their cards on the table" relative to public policy. It is an effort to "stem the tide of tax delinquency in northern counties of the lake states," Tinker said.

Ford Store Closing

Iron Mountain—The Ford store, located at the corner of South Carpenter and Woodward avenues, and opened here eight years ago last fall, is to be discontinued on or about April 1.

Victor Perini, Ford Motor company superintendent, confirmed the report of the closing this morning.

"The store," he said, "was started here during the height of the so-called boom. It has now outlived its usefulness. That is the only reason involved in the decision to close."

Seek Right of Way

Menominee—Action was taken this week to provide rights of way contested by property holders for Highway US-41 at Spalding and Highway M-35 at Cedar River.

After months of dealings with David Crawford, the state has purchased a 150-foot right of way for a distance of 1,000 feet across Mr. Crawford's land along the Cedar River for the relocation of M-35.

Work of rebuilding four miles of M-35 from Fox south has been under way since last fall. Work on the southern end of the project, however, had been stopped by failure of dealings for a right of way. Mr. Crawford, who sought $2,000 for the land need, is reported to have accepted less than a quarter of that sum.

Transfer Two Girls

Menominee—Order transferring two girls committed by the local court to the Girls Training School, Adrian, to the Michigan Home and Training School, Lapeer, has been entered by Probate Judge John W. Stiles.

The girls are Margaret Mishigaud, Harris Indian committed in March, 1931, and Mary Louise Olson, Menominee, committed in October, 1930. The girls were committed as delinquents.

Merchant Retires

Menominee — James Watson, the oldest merchant on the Menominee river in point of age and continuous active business, has retired. He rounded out a career of nearly 59 years in the one line of merchandising hardware in Marinette at the age of 85 years, when he stepped out of ownership of Watson Brothers store March 15. While he is "out of business," force of habit or love of old associations beckons him back to the store about every day, or maybe he makes the trip to keep fit.

No Legion Carnival

Iron Mountain—If the officers and members of the Thomas Uren post, American Legion, can prevent it, there will be no street carnival in Iron Mountain this year, according to a statement today by Earl Campbell, commander. Bert Carpenter post members and officers, in Kingsford, are reported to feel the same way about it.

Last year the legion sponsored the Rubin and Cherry shows in this city and, although some revenue was derived, the amount of money taken out of the city by the carnival management was wholly out of proportion with the money left here, Campbell said.

For years past the carnival question has cropped up annually, and on several occasions has occasioned no little debate, both among the legion members, who have usually sponsored the events, and among officers in the city and village of Kingsford.

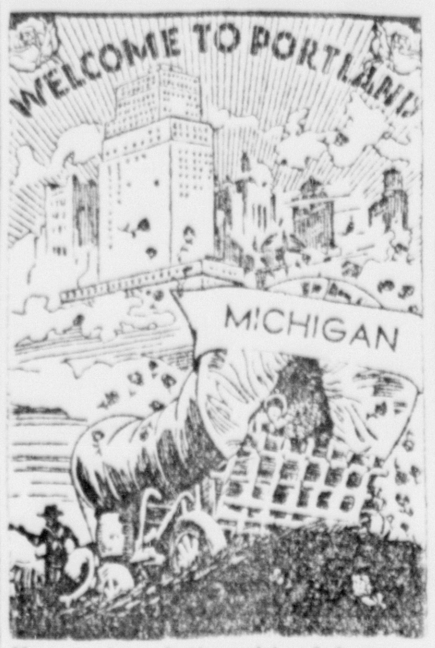
This State Among Those Arriving in Long Legion Race



Every time I thought of home
I wished it wasn't me;
But now I am in Oregon,
A banjo on my knee.
—On the Oregon Trail.

The long, long trail across the prairies and hills; midst redskins and buffalo, fording rivers, sleeping under the blanket of God's blue starry sky, has ended for the American Legion department of Michigan, in one of the greatest national membership contests the Legion has ever attempted. To arrive at Portland, Ore., on the old trail that started at Independence, Mo., it was necessary for this state to attain 100 per cent of its 1932 membership for the Legion. It required 75 per cent before the covered wagon and ox team that represented this state could start on the big map that is watched day by day at National Headquarters in Indianapolis.

This unique contest, in which each gain in percentage of Legion membership meant moving the covered wagon and ox team along the Oregon Trail that much, was chosen because Portland, the end of the race, will be the place for the national convention next Sept. 12-15.

New Methods Help Cure Short Limbs

San Francisco, (AP)—Use of apparatus and methods developed largely by LeRoy C. Abbott, M.D., former director of Shriners' hospitals, enabled the San Francisco Shrine hospital for crippled children to lengthen defective limbs of 25 children in the last year.

The operation in many cases involved cutting through the leg bones transversely, separating the surrounding membranes from the bones and holding the bone fragments in juxtaposition by means of the apparatus while nature filled in the bone structure.

Thumb screws are turned from time to time to widen the gap until the desired length is attained, up to a maximum in one or two cases of nearly four inches.

W. C. DREVDAHL LEAVES TODAY

Resigns Here to Take Position as Cashier Of Bessemer Bank

Walter C. Drevdahl, former cashier of the First National bank of this city, is leaving today for Bessemer, Mich., where he has accepted a similar position with the newly organized Bessemer National bank which opens Tuesday. Mr. Drevdahl's resignation from the local bank was accepted Thursday evening by the board of directors, but he will still retain his position as a member of the board.

Mr. Drevdahl has had considerable banking experience, having started his banking career here in 1917 with the First National bank. In 1918 he entered the University of Michigan and early the following year again became associated with the First National bank where he was employed during the next three years. In 1922 he again enrolled at the University of Michigan and in 1926 he became affiliated with the state banking department as bank examiner. Following three years of service in the department Mr. Drevdahl re-accepted a position with the local bank in whose employ he has been since.

The First National bank of Bessemer was closed on January 18 this year. It has recently been reorganized and will open on Tuesday, March 29.

Mr. Drevdahl has always taken a prominent part in civic affairs and was actively identified with the local post of the American Legion as well as several other fraternal organizations. While his many friends regret his leaving, they are wishing him unbounded success in his new venture.

Mr. Drevdahl's successor at the local bank will be selected Thursday at a meeting of the board of directors of that institution.

CLOSE RACE IN ELKS' LEAGUE

One Tilt Separates First Four Teams; Southpaws, Giants Tied

The race in the Elks league tightened up somewhat with only one game separating the first four teams. The Southpaws and Giants are waging a great battle for top honors, and at the close of the week both were in a tie. The Rexalls and Cubs follow with one game to the rear of the leaders, with four teams following in next position with only two games behind. All in all eight of the ten teams are separated by only three games, and with only two more series to go, some exciting moments are in store for the kegelers during the coming two weeks.

Art Cockram got hot with a nice count of 251 and prevented the Cubs from administering a coat of whitewash in their series Friday evening. Art Hall came through with a 229 game and an average of 188. Heine Weber came into his own with an average of 197 which was high for the week.

The schedule for the week is as follows:

Monday—Yanks vs. Rexalls.
Tuesday—Giants vs. Paper Makers.
Wednesday—Tigers vs. Lions.
Thursday—Browns vs. Pirates.
Friday—Cubs vs. Southpaws.

Easter Drama to End Sunday Night

It was in the garden of Joseph where was a sepulchre hewn out of rock that the body of Jesus was carried and placed therein. This sepulchre was intended for the burial of Joseph and his family but he had craved the body of Jesus from Pilate and intended to place it within his own sepulchre which was a new one.

Henceforth the body of Jesus was carried, the women following and lamenting his death and crucifixion. The huge stone was placed in front of the doorway and was sealed with the seal of the Roman government. Soldiers are placed on guard, but as the dawn begins to break on the third day, there is an earthquake, the stone at the entrance is thrown back, an angel appears and announces that "Jesus is not here, He is risen from the dead."

The soldiers fall upon their faces to the ground, fleeing from the scene as soon as the angel disappears. The Mary's with Salome find the stone rolled away from the tomb. Peter and John come to the sepulchre and find the body of Jesus is not there. Mary hears a footfall and imagines it to be the gardener then, discovers when he speaks to her that it is "The Christ."

This scene will be faithfully portrayed tonight in the First Methodist Episcopal church at 7:30 o'clock. This will conclude the serial dramatic production of "The Easter Story," which has been under the direction of the pastor of the church and which has been making a tremendous impression upon the lives of those who have followed the series.

TEACHERS CUT TEN PER CENT

All School Employes to Be Given Straight Salary Slash

A straight ten per cent reduction in salaries will be given to local public school teachers next year according to a decision made Friday evening at the regular meeting of the board of education. The cut will apply also to all school employes including janitors, truant officer, etc. The school year will consist of the full ten months. The new contracts are expected to be offered teachers this week.

Earlier this year the board sounded out the opinion of the teachers in regard to a salary cut for the balance of the current school term. The teachers, however, voiced opposition to th cut and the board, after finding the contracts to be iron-clad, dropped the matter.

Seeding of the lawn and the planting of shrubbery will be partially done this spring with some of the work continuing next fall and perhaps the following spring.

Powers' Trojans, a team which fished last in the first half of the race, captured the championship for the second half of the season in the Lady Elks Bowling League. By virtue of their two defeats at the hands of the Trojans, the All Stars relinquished their hold on third place to the Badgers who managed to capture one of the two games with the Victors. The Gophers, who were idle, found the going difficult and succeeded in winning only four out of 18 games. High score last week was obtained by Mrs. Powers with a count of 178.

Wednesday—Christensen Clothiers vs. Drevdahls.

Thursday—Lauerman Specials vs. Norton Specials.

Friday—Christensen Clothiers vs. Johnson Grocers; Sinclair Oils vs. Norton Specials.

Ralph Williams' Sinclair Oils definitely cinched the city amateur league flag last week by overwhelming the Christensen Clothiers and by getting a close decision over their closest rivals, the Lauerman Specials, in a hair-raising thriller, 31-29. Other positions in the league tightened up somewhat with the Norton Specials and Christensen Clothiers still having chances to dislodge the second place Lauerman five, while most second division teams have opportunities of bettering their standings.

The flashiest work of the week was done by the revamped Drevdahl lineup which gained two victories, more than they have won during the entire previous season. Led by Ekdahl, Leonard, and Multhaupt, the cellar champs snapped out of their lethargy to win games from the Lauerman Specials and Johnson Grocers. The Grocers were defeated Friday evening by a score of 29-22 in a rough and tumble battle in which 39 fouls were called, three players being ejected from the game on personal fouls. Drevdahls held the lead from start to finish.

Four Supervisors To Be Opposed by Slip Candidates

Township nominees will have plenty of opposition from slip candidates at the coming election on Monday, April 4, according to reports. Four supervisor nominees will have opposition from those who will run on slips while nominees of other township offices will also face slip candidates.

Angus McDougall, Germfask nominee for supervisor, will be opposed by William Brain, who lost to McDougall by a small vote at the caucus. Supervisor E. J. LaPorte, of Mueller township, will have opposition from John T. Lundberg, who was not a candidate at the caucus.

James Arrowood and Matthew Brearley, supervisors of Manistique and Doyle townships, respectively, who were defeated in the early polling will take the slip route against Klagstad and Merwin. Arrowood was defeated by Klagstad and Brearley lost to Merwin.

Aldrich Candidate

Ezra Aldrich, who was runner-up in the four cornered race for the supervisor post of Hiawatha township, will run on slips against Charles Howard, present supervisor and nominee. In the primary, Howard obtained 106, Aldrich 60, Dehlin 54, and Blandford 50. Carl Lindroth, present overseer in district one, will run on slips against Martin Johnson, who defeated Lindroth in the primary. Edgar Lewis will run against Fred Laux, primary nominee for the office of justice of the peace.

Other candidates who will run on slips are W. W. Ackley against Frank Conlon for highway commissioner of Germfask township, and Matt Walter who will oppose Glenn Aldous, present nominee. Aldous secured a two-vote margin over Mrs. Otto Winkle at the caucus.

THEATRES

The "platinum blonde" is at it again.

Jean Harlow exerts her siren wiles, dances to the tune of a tin-pan radio in a tenement room, and in the end almost upsets the destiny of a great city.

This is the part of the Circe of screen roles in "The Beast of the City," Metro - Goldwyn - Mayer's thrilling drama of modern American city life, now playing at the Gero Theatre.

Newberry Churches Observe Good Friday

Good Friday was observed in Newberry, two churches combining to hold the usual service. This year it was in the Finnish Lutheran church and the Methodist Episcopal pastor and people cooperated in the program although those who filled the building were from all denominations.

Rev. Lauri Ahlman delivered the first sermon, talking on "Calvery." Rev. Sam Bottrell spoke on "Paul and the Cross." Besides the congregational singing the Methodist choir gave an anthem. The service started at 1:30 and lasted until 3.

All stores and business places were closed from 12:30 until 3.

SOO JUNCTION MEN ARRESTED

Conservation officers arrested two men in St. Ignace on Friday, both being found with venison in their possession. Frank Knowles pleaded guilty to the charge and paid the costs of $11.50. Lanse Russ, pleading guilty to the same charge, paid costs of $18.50. Fines of $25 were suspended in both cases.

BAND, ORCHESTRA CONCERT

The combined band, orchestra and high school glee clubs will present the annual Spring Festival in the high school on next Friday night, April 1, under the direction of Arthur A. Neu.

Over 150 students of both the high and grade schools will take part, the mixed glee club being this year the largest since its organization, numbering 125 at present.

Among the numbers presented by the orchestra will be "La Czarine" by Ganne, Schubert's "Moment Musical" and selections from "William Tell."

The glee clubs will include on the program "The Kilties March" "The Forest Dance" and "Old King Cole" the latter being a humorous number especially pleasing to the young people.

Some new marches displaying the clarinets and "March Militaire." "The Clock Store" will be among the amusing numbers in this section of the concert, the ticking of the clocks being woven into a fantasia.

Proceeds from this concert will be used to purchase the beginings of a uniform for the band, the idea being to add to it from time to time until the completed outfit has been obtained. This year it is planned to buy the military caps and black broadcloth capes lined with orange satin. Members of the band, orchestra and glee clubs are already busy selling tickets.

LONGER LIBRARY HOURS

At the last meeting of the McMillan township board of education it was decided to lengthen the hours of the library in answer to the criticism of members of the state board of education that not sufficient time was at present allowed the school pupils for library work during the school hours.

Hours during the afternoon and evening have been from 3:00 to 5:30 and 6:30 to 8:00. With the beginning of next school year the library will open at 1:00 p. m., and with the exception of the dinner hour will remain open until 8:00. This will allow for the use of the fine reference shelf which has been purchased during the past four years and the students will be able to do more preparation with the books directly at their disposal. On Saturday the hours will be as usual, from 1:30 until 5:00.

The longer hours will also do away with much of congestion as under the present system the hour from four to five is so busy that sometimes three persons are needed to care for it. Use of books by the general public will also be stimulated by the new plan.

SHIPPING DEER

During the past couple of weeks six crates of deer have been shipped from Grand Island to various parts of the country. Each crate contains one deer, caught in the trap-crates in which they are shipped. Last year no deer were shipped. In former years from eighty to one hundred or more deer were shipped every winter to parks, zoos and ranches. Deer are easily trapped in the winter time, especially when there is deep snow and stormy weather. Cedar twigs, hay, etc., are scattered about in the entrance to the first pen. As a deer enters, the door drops. The deer then tries to escape through another trap door leading into the crate in which the animal is shipped.

Citrus Fruit Is "Pot of Gold" In Rio Grande Area

By ROBERT WEAR

Dallas, Tex., (AP)—Grapefruit may be to some a perverse thing that squirts into one's eyes at breakfast or that eludes the cocktail fork at dinner.

But it's more than that in the lower Rio Grande valley of Texas, where the citrus industry has entered the $100,000,000 class—that being the estimated value of the 5,000 citrus farms in the area.

There 15,000 persons care for the 7,000,000 trees and handle their product—golden in more than one sense.

And it's still growing — this comparatively new industry in a state which already produces a third of the nation's cotton crop, enough oil to demoralize markets, great herds of cattle and wheat by the square mile.

In the opposite corner of Texas from the Panhandle has come to light this new "pot of gold" under the agricultural rainbow.

On the east it touches the Gulf of Mexico and on the south the Rio Grande—the most southerly farm area on the mainland of the United States.

"The valley" comprises four counties — Cameron, Hidalgo, Starr and Willacy—with a total area of 3,000,000 acres. About one-third is already under cultivation and another third is arable.

The region, from Brownsville and Port Isabel on the east to Mission, 70 miles upriver, on the west, is threaded with irrigation canals and miles of paved highways.

Old settlers trace the beginning of citrus growing in the valley to a wandering priest who brought some oranges to children of his diocese 60 years ago.

Some of the trees from these seeds are still bearing, but it was not until 1920 that the industry suddenly gained impetus throughout the area.

A year or two later the Texas Citrus Fruit Growers' Exchange was organized as a cooperative group. Now it and two smaller cooperatives handle a large portion of the crop.

Last year saw more than 5,000 carloads of citrus fruits—some 2,000,000 boxes—shipped out of the valley, the production of 3,300,000 trees which agents of the federal department of agriculture found of bearing age in their 1931 census.

Financial measures which the United States have taken were wisely conceived and may perhaps prove beneficial not only to that great country but to the entire world.

KEIL TO START GRID PRCTICE

Spring Training Scheduled to Start This Week

Coach Eldon Keil will open spring football during the coming week, he announced upon his departure for West Salem, to spend Easter. About forty to fifty boys are expected to report for the spring workouts he says and from this group he will have plenty of material for a good eleven for next year. Graduation will take from his last year's first string several good men, including Potvin, Mahronic, Weingartner and Cannon, but in his reserve list were several comers that should fill the gaps without difficulty.

Kernz, Murphy and Jahnke, three of the outstanding players on last year's squad will not be out for spring training, owing to illness, but it is probable that when the football season comes around, these men will again be the backbone of the team.

At fullback, Kernz made a fine record, during his first year in the game. He was a shifty runner and was always good for a few yards when they were needed. He was a constant threat but his effectiveness late in the season was impared by injuries to his leg.

Murphy, a linesman, was valuable during the season of 1931 and this year, with added weight and experience, he should be much better. Jahnke will also be in the line, if he has sufficiently recovered his strength from the severe attack of pneumonia by next season.

Other members of last year's squad who will probably be in the lineup when the season opens, are Carter, Wright, Dehlin, Kircher, Gabrielson, Damitz, Froberg, Sepac and Stemac.

Close Registration For City Election

Registration for the City election on April 4, closed yesterday noon with more than 300 names added to the voting lists of the city, according to Otto F. Haberman, City Treasurer. The past week has seen the heaviest pre-election registration ever recorded in the city, he states.

That the heavy registration presages a record breaking vote at the city election is believed, although there has been little other indication that the community is greatly concerned about the outcome.

Two commissioners are to be chosen on April 4, out of a list of four candidates. Mayor J. P. Bushong and Commissioner Claude Hawkins are seeking re-election and they are opposed by Swan Widar and Albert Madden. None of the candidates have made a public appeal for support and no issues have been brought forward.

At the last City election of April 7 of last year, a total of 1200 votes were cast in the election of two Commissioners and a Justice of the Peace. Four candidates were in the race for Commissioner and the final tabulation showed that only 109 votes separated the high and low men.

Hold Services For City Pioneer

Following the services, the body was conveyed to Fernwood cemetery and borne to the grave by P. G. Erickson, S. G. Nelson, Carl Nyberg, Fred Quarnstrom, Louis M. Skogquist and P. J. Lindblad, all old friends and associates of Mr. Olson.

Mr. Olson leaves to mourn his death, his widow, two sons, a daughter, four grandchildren, one brother and one sister, all of whom reside in Gladstone. The sons are John M. and Walter L. Olson, both of whom are identified with the Gladstone State Savings bank, and Mrs. E. A. Erickson. The grandchildren are two sons of John M. Olson and two sons of Mrs. Erickson. The brother is Ole Olson and the sister, Mrs. John Larson.

THEATRES

The dangerous but clamorous life of the notorious World War spy, "Mata Hari," is portrayed in the picture of that name which will open today at the Rialto Theatre with the sensational combination of Greta Garbo and Ramon Novarro in the leading roles. The amazing cast of this ambitious Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production also includes such outstanding screen personalities as Lionel Barrymore, Lewis Stone, C. Henry Gordon, Karen Morley and Alec B. Francis, together with a large group of supporting players. The unprecedented feat of placing two of the screen's foremost personalities in one picture warranted an exceptional story. Report has it that following extensive study of stage plays and novels, the original story, "Mata Hari," was selected as being most eminently suited to bring out the best dramatic talents of both Garbo and Novarro.

The plot depicts the engrossing career of the fascinating Mata Hari, whose beauty and glamour as a dancer enables her to win her way into the confidence of Allied officers and thus to furnish the enemy forces with strategic war plans. When she finally falls in love with one of the many men whom she has betrayed, it is too late and she is forced to face a firing squad.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brotherton of Escanaba are visiting today at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Sword.

Miss Bernice Carrier is visiting with Mrs. J. Bartel, Escanaba, over the week-end.

CITY TO ACT ON BAND PETITIONS

Controversy Over Levy 1 To Be Settled by Commission

The City Commission will take action Monday night on two petitions of electors of the City, one of which requests that the levy for band purposes be discontinued and the other which urges the continuance of the levy. The petition against the band was filed more than two weeks ago, while the favorable petition is now being circulated and will probably be filed Monday before the meeting.

Both petitions set forth the reasons why the petitioners are advising the City Commission. The first petition filed based its contention on the cost of the band, pointing out that the annual expense to the city was more than $2000, and urged that in view of the present economic conditions the levy should be abolished.

The counter petition conveys the information that the cost of the band is but 42 cents per capita, and several reasons are set forth to substantiate the contention of the petitioners that the money is well expended.

The petition against the band was tabled at the last meeting of the Commission, owing to the fact that but three of the Commissioners were present. At that time, however, it was indicated that the petition would be considered at a later date. There were 265 names attached to the petition.

Band suporters contend that they will secure more than double the number of signatures to the petitions favoring the band, but no figures as to the number which had signed were available yesterday.

The Commission is under no legal obligation to consider either petition Monday night, since neither petition conforms to the law which relates to municipal bands.

Shock From Fall Results In Death

Word has been received here of the recent death in Chicago of Mrs. Wm. Boldt, mother of Mrs. Dell Dennis, 1103 Minnesota avenue. Mrs. Boldt had been ailing for three months as a result of shock received in a fall. Death came Wednesday and burial was made Friday afternoon at Chicago. Her husband died in July of last year.

At the time of the death of her mother, Mrs. Dennis was in Minneapolis. She went to Chicago for the funeral services and from there to St. Louis where she is visiting with a sister.

In the crisis confronting the local governments and the necessity of restoring public confidence in our revenue affairs, there is a challenge and a civic duty which no one has a right to ignore.

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
(Associated Press Financial Writer)

New York, Mar. 26 (AP)—Stocks emerged from their recent rut on the downside today, sagging heavily in a larger turnover.

Brokers attributed selling to uncertainties over national taxation, pointing out that the sales tax defeat had come after Thursday's close and that the market had not had opportunity to show its reaction toward further delay in balancing the budget.

Being in pessimistc mood, the market disregarded statistics pointing to further banking improvement, preferring instead to make bearish capital out of the difficulties faced by congress in providing new revenues.

Stocks were heavy from the opening. A little recovery came in the final hour as shorts took profits, but late transactions witnessed another relapse and closing prices were near or at the bottom. The Standard Statistics-Associated Press average for 90 issues finished at 60.5, just a point above the bear market low. Chart followers were disturbed by the rails' penetration into new low ground, which was taken as an unfavorable symptom.

United States Steel, which had been meeting strong support above 40, dropped to 39¾. It closed at 40¼, off ½. American Telephone was plentifully supplied, reacting to 111 1-8. North American, Procter & Gamble and Western Union lost a couple of points. In the rail division, Santa Fe, Pennsylvania and Southern Pacific established new minimums, while New Haven preferred dropped 10 points to 40. Reading, traded for the first time since the dividend reduction, was down 4½. Sales totaled 1,057,700 shares.

CHICAGO GRAIN
Chicago, Mar. 26—Embarrassed by Stock market breaks, and by disconcerting effects of Washington official reports of intended big planting of spring wheat, grain values went sprawling today.

Government figures on 1932 intentions to plant spring wheat revealed likelihood of much larger acreage than was seeded last year, and a huge expansion as compared with the harvested area. There were estimates also that acreage of corn, oats and barley would be augmented to a material extent.

Wheat closed nervous, 1 1-8 to 1 5-8 under Thursday's finish, corn 5-8 to 1 down, oats 1-8 to 5-8 off, and provisions unchanged to 5 cents decline.

Corn and oats gave way with wheat, May corn outdoing the season's low price record. The government report on 1932 prospective corn acreage indicated the second largest total ever known.

SING HIGH! SING LOW! PROSPERITY

HELLO! PROSPERITY
MEDAL

All Rudy Valee has to do to make a new name for himself is to write a theme song for prosperity. At any rate, when Mr. and Mrs. Vallee called at the White House the President suggested that Rudy sing a song that would make people forget their troubles. A medal would be the reward for success, the President smilingly suggested.

New York, Mar. 26 (AP)—The Bond market, listless and somewhat apprehensive, looked on the gloomy side of the picture today with the result that prices were lowered substantially in all classes of securities.

The speculative rails and industrials, most of which were previously nervous, bore the brunt of renewed pressure. Some liens of Baltimore & Ohio, Chesapeake Corp., Chesapeake & Ohio, St. Paul, Chicago & Northwestern, Rock Island, Erie, Great Northern, Illinois Central, Missouri Pacific, New York Central, Northern Pacific, Frisco, St. Louis Southwestern and Nickel Plate lost from 1 to around 4 points.

HELD!

Caspar Oliver (above) farmer, was held at Somerville, N. J., on a charge of possessing stolen property. A stolen automobile was alleged to have been discovered, partially hidden by hay, in a barn on a farm near Hopewell, N. J. Police denied that his arrest had any connection with the Lindbergh case.

NUMBER OF PROJECTS NOW UNDER WAY

dry rooms are coming in for attention in modern homes. Even kitchen sinks are transformed in size and appearance, and bathrooms take on a new beauty and comfort with the new fixtures and finishes.

Plumbing fixtures and fittings will be among the first products to respond to a rising commodity market. Plumbing is now selling at the 1913 price level.

The modern kitchen is gay with colored tile walls and is one of the most inviting rooms of the whole house. It isn't hot and stuffy like the kitchen grandmother had.

Lighting fixtures are another big item in modernization plans.

Bedroom fixtures shield the bright lamps from the eyes of anyone in bed and at the same time provide ample illumination for dressing. Simple sockets can be attached to the bottom of the bed and connected to any of the convenience outlets, thereby providing an excellent night light which guards again stubbed toes!

In the kitchen a lighting unit is employed that directs a large portion of the light upward to the ceiling. The fixture causes no glare since it has a heavily enameled bottom. Cleverly concealed lights over the sink shed a soft radiance through opal glass and eliminate shadows during the dish washing process. Thus modern illumination helps make efficient the workshop of the home.

Gone are the bare basement lamps that hung by long cords. Opal globes fitting snugly against the ceiling have been installed. Special lighting with a daylight lamp is provided over the laundry tub so that even the most vague stain on linens is immediately discernible.

Oil Shares Firm On Curb As Other Issues Are Heavy

New York, Mar. 26 (AP)—With the notable exception of some of the oil shares, the Curb market was generally depressed today, with considerable selling again coming into the utilities.

Heaviness of the market was in sympathy with the big board, and was largely attributed to continued uncertainties over federal taxes. The possibility that the defeat of the general sales tax may result in a special tax on electric power may have had something to do with selling of the utilities, although there was an inclination to believe that the chances of such a tax were remote. The day's turnover was 130,000 shares.

Oils were helped by the firmness of crude and gasoline prices, and the approval of an import tax on oil adopted by the house of representatives.

Tidal waves have been found to measure from 80 to 100 feet in height.

Card of Thanks

IN MEMORIAM
Anderson, Sophie Marie, wife of Carl H. Anderson, formerly 221 S. 16th St., passed away March 27, 1930.

Two years have passed since that sad day
The one we loved was called away.
God took her home, T'was His will,
But in our hearts, she is with us still.
Silent and deep are the tears that we weep
Surrounded by friends, we are lonesome.
In the midst of our pleasures we are blue
A smile on our face, but our heart just aches.
Longing dear Mother for you.

HER SEVEN CHILDREN.

I wish to express my sincere thanks and heartfelt appreciation to the many kind friends and neighbors for the assistance and sympathy shown during my recent bereavement, in the loss of my beloved husband. Their kindness will ever be remembered.

Michigan Swimming Team Wins National Title

STANFORD MEN TAKE SECOND

Wolverines Break Record In Medley Relay to Cop Tourney

Ann Arbor, Mich., March 26 (AP)—University of Michigan's well balanced swimming team retained its national collegiate championship tonight by taking a first place in the medley relay, last event on the program. Michigan earned 34 points, Leland Stanford was second with 31.

Northwestern scored 21 points to take third place. Princeton and Rutgers tied for fourth place with eight points. Other teams scored as follows, Ohio State, 6; Southern California 5; Navy 4; California 2; Illinois 2; Columbia 2; Cincinnati U. 1.

The Wolverines were forced to break the national collegiate record to nose out Northwestern's trio in the last event. Taylor Drysdale found Murphy of the Wildcats his match in the back stroke leg of the race, and gave Louis Lemak about an even start with Lennox of N. U. Lemak put on a great burst of speed, swimming full length of the tank under water, and gave Bob Ladd a commanding lead which the third Wolverine managed to hold. The time was 3 minutes and 8 and six tenths seconds. The former record of 3:09.2 was set by Northwestern in 1930.

Michigan took four first places in the ten events of the meet, the 200 yard breast stroke, 150 yard back, 220 yard free style and medley relay. Stanford accounted for three firsts, the 1500 meters Friday, the 440 and the free styles.

Johnny Schmieler of Michigan was the only double winner. His victories in the 220-yard free style and 200-yard breast stroke will rate him high among candidates for the United States Olympic team this year.

Officials of the Olympic committee were present tonight and point winners in the meet were awarded Olympic certificates of merit. A feature of tonight's finals was the close competition between Mickey Riley of Southern California and Dick Degener, Michigan sophomore, for the fancy diving crown. Riley, the defending champion, won out by less than four points. These boys out classed the field in the high dive. Riley scored 146.76 points and Degener 142.92.

Tonight's victory gave Michigan an enviable record in collegiate swimming competition. In repeating for the national title the Wolverines hung up a record of four wins in the last six national meets. They also won the Western conference title this year for a record of five wins in the last six Big Ten meets.

The entire meet of the past two days was marked by fast times and close competition. National collegiate records for the 400 yard relay, 200 yard breaststroke, 50 yard free style, 220 yard free style and 200 yard medley relay were broken.

The victorious Wolverines demonstrated their all around strength by scoring points in eight of the ten events.

NATIONAL CHAMP

Indianapolis, March 26 (AP)—Louisa Robert, competing under the colors of the Atlanta, Ga., Athletic Club, became national junior 100-yard backstroke champion for 1932 when she negotiated the distance in 1:17 tonight in the Indiana-Kentucky A. A. U. water carnival at the Indianapolis Athletic Club.

The previous mark was 110.223 miles an hour, made by Kaye Don, English speed king, with Miss England II., on Lake Garda, Italy, last July.

Meredith's Mark In Quarter Mile Is Broken By Second

Stanford University, Calif., Mar. 26 (AP) Ted Meredith's mark of 47.4 seconds for the 440 yard dash, which had stood since 1916, was shattered by "Blazing" Ben Eastman, bespectacled Stanford runner, as his teammates lost a dual meet to the Los Angeles Athletic club 80 to 51 here today.

Eastman strode through the one-lap distance in 46.4 seconds, one full second under the time Meredith set sixteen years ago while wearing the colors of the University of Pennsylvania. Fifteen yards behind Eastman, but running a 47.6 quarter mile nevertheless, came James Gordon, of the Los Angeles Athletic club, to finish second.

TEAM LEADERS NOT TOPPLED

Standings in Bowling Tournament at Detroit Announced

BULLETIN

Detroit, March 26 (AP)—The Joe Voss belters of Chicago went into the lead in the five-man event of the American Bowling Congress tournament tonight with a score of 3,046.

Coliseum, Detroit, Mar. 26 (AP)—Despite the attack of 32 fast teams, the team leaders remained undisturbed in the thirty-second renewal of the American Bowling Congress tournament on the opening squad here tonight. Bad first games, a habit with 75 percent of the teams entered annually in the big pin classic, prevented several teams from going places.

The Kassing-Goosen five, a St. Louis lineup, led the shift with a 2809 total. The Mount City pin knights opened with a score of 887, sandwiched in a 949 count and finished with 973.

First National Banks, Chicago, checked in with a 2770 total despite a 797 opener. Windup games of 974 and 999 gave the Windy City quintet runners-up honors of the squad.

Another huge crowd witnessed the team shooting tonight and stayed for the late shift to watch Charley Daw, Milwaukee, Frank Kartheiser, Chicago, and other stellar pinsters attempt to dethrone the Broggers five of Grand Rapids from the lead.

Big Ten Wrestlers Cop Most Crowns

Bloomington, Ind., Mar. 26 (AP)—The Western Conference copped the biggest share of the championships of the national collegiate world as Big Ten wrestlers, after a series of upset bouts that left only one defending champion on his throne, took titles in four of the seven divisions tonight.

Jack Riley, of Northwestern, was the only title-holder to retain his crown, but Hardie Lewis, of the Universty of Oklahoma, 145-pound champion in 1930, came through easily in an overtime session to regain the title.

McGuirk last year's 155-pound champion entered in the 174-pound event this year, lost an overtime match to Hess, of Iowa State. Pearce, the other defending champion, fell before Puerta, of Illinois, in the 123-pound afternoon elimination and Puerta gained the title tonight.

Wood Grasped the Hand That Threw Him Out of School and Followed It Into Big Leagues

Charlie Wood, above, and a replica of the bridge hand that shaped his destiny.

San Francisco—Because of a perfect bridge hand of 13 spades that he once held, Charlie Wood became a pitcher for the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Four college chums were enjoying a harmless card game—it was against the rules—one Sunday afternoon four years ago at Wofford College in South Carolina. Quite by accident, the perfect hand of 13 spades that comes but once in 3,184,000 deals, according to mathematicians, was dealt to Wood. Excitement prevailed, the perfect hand made the freak news column of the local newspaper, where a stern college dean read it and frowned. Next day Charlie was homeward bound to Pacolet, S. C.

At home he discovered that he played just as good baseball out of school as in, so that season, 1928, he hooked up with Salisbury in the Piedmont League, his pitching attracted attention and the next year found him with Columbia in the Sally loop. Another year's improvement and he was taken by Wichita in the Western League. There he was found by the Pirates, who sent him train fare to Pittsburgh late in the 1930 season. He has been with the Pirates since.

But to get back to the perfect bridge hand—Charlie couldn't have told you whether his future was to be law, politics, medicine or science, until he drew those 13 spades.

33 States Voting Over 3 to 1 Wet

Thirty-three States are voting more than 3 to 1 wet as over three million ballots from all forty-eight States are tabulated in The Literary Digest's nation wide Prohibition Poll, as announced in tomorrow's issue of the magazine.

The thirty-three States represented in this wet group have a combined population of over 86,000,000 people, as enumerated in the latest census figures.

Eight of these States register a vote of more than 4 to 1 for repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment.

3,040,036 votes are tallied this week in the "straw" referendum of which 763,175, or 25.1 percent, are dry and 2,276,861, or 74.9 percent, are wet.

The dry vote scores a fifth consecutive gain this week rising 15.85 per cent of the total vote of the first week's returns to 25.10 per cent in the current sixth tabulation.

Kansas is still the only State voting bone dry, but North Carolina is within a fraction of one per cent of registering a vote for continuance of the Eighteenth Amendment.

AN OLD WINE CELLAR

London—One of the world's most remarkable and oldest wine cellars is the huge Crescent vault in the London Docks. Built more than 125 years ago, it is still in use. It covers more than three acres, and contains more than 750,000 gallons of wine. The wine is aged under constant temperature. Keg menders make daily trips through the cellar to look for leaks in the barrels.

DENY DAVIS CUP TEAM SELECTED

Vines and Shields Have Best Chance to Get Singles Berth

New York, Mar. 26 (AP)—All reports to the contrary, the United States Lawn Tennis Association insists it has not yet decided what players will represent this country in Davis cup warfare this summer, either in the American zone play or in Europe.

While it is the prevailing opinion that Ellsworth Vines, Jr., and Frank Shields are certain to be delegated to play the singles and George Lott, Jr., and Johnny Van Ryn the doubles when the going gets rough, the tennis fathers at a meeting here this week-end declared there still is a wide-open race for places on the team.

Bernon S. Prentice of New York, chairman of the selection committee of seven, declared time and playing form alone would sway the committee.

Bell Raps L. T. A.

Other members of the selection committee are Louis J. Carruthers, president of the U. S. L. T. A., Jones W. Mersereau, Julian S. Myrick and Holcombe Ward, all of New York, Fitz Eugene Dixon of Philadelphia and Dean Mathey of Princeton.

The committee's avowed "open door" policy in naming the Davis cup squad will offer renewed hopes for such players as Gregory Mangin, new indoor champion, Berkeley Bell, Wilmer Allison, Keith Glendhill and Clifford Sutter. Bell, among others, had charged that the U. S. L. T. A. already had settled definitely on the Vines-Shields-Lott-Van Ryn combination.

Because of the many details involved, the committee at its initial meeting failed to reach any definite decisions on the sites for the various American zone ties, but the foundation was laid for correspondence and negotiations with Canada, Cuba, Mexica, Australia, Chile, Brazil and Paraguay.

The Canadian Lawn Tennis Association announced in Toronto the first round tie between the United States and Canada would be played in Washington April 28, 29 and 30 but confirmation was lacking from U. S. L. T. A. headquarters.

Troublemaker Cops Steeplechase Race

Camden, S. C., March 26 (AP)—Overcoming unexpectedly stubborn opposition, Troublemaker, a big bay gelding, flashed ahead of Primero at the finish to capture the feature event of the steeplechase races here this afternoon and win the historic Carolina cup.

The winner, owned by Mrs. T. H. Somerville, of Montpelier, Va., made the tough three miles over timber in six minutes, 19 3-5 seconds.

This time was fast, but it did not compare to the time set by Netta Run, a chestnut mare owned by Mrs. R. B. Deans of Bedford Mills, N. Y., who broke the course record for two miles over brush.

Netta Run captured the Kershaw steeplechase by negotiating the harzardous course in four minutes and one-fifth of a second.

GOLDEN COPS GOLF PLAYOFF

Defeats Craig Wood in Extra 18 Holes by 74 to 78

BY DILLON GRAHAM
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Pinehurst, N. C., Mar. 26 (AP)—Big Johnny Golden, the jolly Noroton, Conn., professional whose ability to win play-offs brought him the world's richest golf prize at Agua Caliente last year, today won the North and South open title in an extra 18 holes match with Craig Wood of Deal, N. J. He shot a 74 to Wood's 78.

The fine game which enabled Wood to shoot two 69's for the opening rounds of the tournament Thursday was missing today. The Jersey star found the rough and traps several times and was short with approaches and putts alike.

It was his accuracy with the putter that brought Golden victory and $1,500 first money and enabled him to break the 286 tie in which he and Wood finished the 72-hole match yesterday.

Three times during the match, which was close until the final few holes, Golden sank putts from 20 to 30 feet off the greens and his work at the shorter range was surer than Wood's. Wood got $1,000.

SUN WILL SHINE ON EASTER DAY

Spring Finery Won't Be Ruined Today, Says Weather Man

Even the weather man is cooperating to give Escanaba a pleasant Easter Sunday, in contrast to the chilly and cloudy Easters of the past two years.

Clearing skies, some sunshine, and a temperature "just about right" are promised for today by H. H. Spindler, meteorologist at the Escanaba weather bureau.

"There will be no rain or snow," says Mr. Spindler, "and Escanaba folks can wear their best togs without fear of getting them spotted."

The ice on the bay, which has made breezes feel chilly during the last few days, is also showing a promise of spring. Measurements taken by the weather bureau Saturday listed an average thickness of about 12 inches, and the ice is getting water-soaked from rains and warm sunshine.

Tulsa Mixes Efficiency in Food; Thousands Live on 6 Cents Daily

Tulsa, Okla. (AP)—Believe it or not, you can feed a person a carefully balanced ration for a food cost of about six cents a day.

More than 10,000 people in Tulsa county have been fed at that rate since November, 1931, under a commissory plan developed by John H. Leavell—and fed a weekly ration one-third higher in nutritional value than is absolutely necessary for healthy life.

Food Rationed Weekly

The food its distributed to families in weekly amounts.

The young child in the family will receive in a week, for example, two pounds of whole wheat, one half pound of oatmeal, one pound of beans, two pounds of white potatoes, one and a quarter pounds of ground lean meat without bones, two-fifth of a pound each of sugar and a health compound, a poud of four fresh vegetables, a half pound of bacon, a half pound of turnips, more than a pound of powdered milk, a quarter pound of cocoa, and one or two teaspoons of cod-liver oil.

Cost 6.2 Cents Daily

All of this for 43.4 cents a week, or 6.2 cents a day.

Adolescents and adults receive virtually the same foods, though in greater amounts.

The young child gets 10.92 pounds of food in a week, containing at total of 14,910 calories.

The adolescent gets 12.42 pounds, or 17,885 calories; the adult, 13.95 pounds, or 19,158 calories. The adolescent's food costs 6.7 cents a day and the adult's 6.4 cents.

A family of four or five is thus fed at a food cost of about $2 a week.

The plan simply provides that all relief necessities be bought and dispensed by a central purchasing agency under requisitions from regular health agencies.

The 6-cent figure does not include the costs of these relief agencies nor the commissary's small overhead, but Mr. Leavell is convinced the plan has directly saved 40 per cent of the amounts formerly spent, and indirectly saved much more through the prevention of sickness and low morale resulting from malnutrition.

Under the old system of providing charity, grocery orders were issued by four separate agencies and varied as much as 300 per cent in cost among the agencies for the same size family.

None of the orders represented a carefully balanced ration, and no differentiation was made between the kind of food supplied for the children and adults.

Supplies Purchased Centrally

To correct this unbalance, a central committee of five Tulsa business men was formed, which established a central purchasing agency, headed voluntarily by the owner of a large chain grocery store.

Commodities were purchased for cash in carload lots, and rations were made up in advance to suit the dietetic needs of children, 2 to 8 years, adolescents, 8 to 15 years, and adults.

These diets were approved each week by the Tulsa County Medical Society, and the commissary gave instructions for the preparation of the food. The minimums set up by the society have been generously exceeded in every case.

Unemployed Form Personnel

A revolving fund was borrowed from the community fund to start the commissary, and from it all goods are paid for within 24 hours. The paid personnel of the commissary is drawn from the registered unemployed. About 20 workers are needed.

Opposition to the plan has come from politicians, Mr. Leavell says, because of the unfavorable comparisons of the cost of feeding prisoners and other state-supported persons, and from untrained case workers who do not understand.

Complaints from those receiving rations have been less than 5 per cent. Mr. Leavell says no charitable or penal institution is justified in expending more than 10 cents a day for uncooked food per person to maintain vigorous health.

LONELY UNTIL HE MET HER

Ernest Heath, Chicago architect, was lonely after his wife secured a Reno divorce decree. Pretty Susan Carey applied for work in Heath's office and was hired. He took her driving, sent her flowers and became less lonely. Heath and Miss Carey are shown above. Read about them in the new serial, "The Man Hunters," beginning Thursday, March 31, in The Daily Press.

"Doughnut" Tires Cheer Up Makers Of Carbon Black

Borger, Tex. (AP)—Carbon black manufacturers in the Panhandle gas fields are optimistic over the development of "doughnut" automobile tires.

The huge tires require an increased amount of black in their manufacture.

"Since the oversize models are an innovation and there are no warehouse stocks," said one official, "each tire sold means a new tire manufactured. The air-wheel tires are becoming popular and most big companies are producing them."

Officers of local carbon black concerns also find encouragement in the assertion that old stocks of tires are being exhausted and that millions of those in use have coverede their allotted mileage and must soon be replaced.

More than half the world's supply of carbon black is produced here. Plants in this field with a capacity of more than 300,000,000 pounds annually have recently been operating at about half of capacity.

Menominee Farmers Are Keeping Books

Eighteen farmers in Menominee county are at the present time keeping a farm account book in cooperation with the Farm Management Department of Michigan State College.

These books are simple and easy to keep, and at the end of the year will tell you how much you have taken in and how much paid out, and in addition to that will show the increase or decrease in value of your farm, and personal property, and also will show just what parts of your farm are up to standard and what parts fail to come up to standard.

Following are the farmers now keeping books: John Kronsnoble, Albert Kipfer, Frank Erickson, Abel Kovach, Warren Hubbard, Alfred Hendrickson, Chas. G. Swanson, A. P. Kline, H. R. Palmer, Roy Gustafson, John Watz and James Rasmussen of Stephenson; Ed Nordgren of Daggett; Clement Linder, Nadeau; Andrew Benson, Wickman Bros., Edw. Flaum, and John Schauer of Carney.

This service is available to any farmer in the county. One meeting is held to start the farmer with his book, one visit is made to the farm during the summer to find out if there has been any trouble in keeping the book and then the book is checked up and figured out at the end of the year by the Farm Management Department, and returned to the owner.

A new class of farm book keepers is being organized this year. Anyone wishing to join should write to the County Agricultural Agent, Menominee, Michigan.

AIR MILEAGE DROPS

Berlin—Lufthansa, Germany's chief air line, flew 5,430,584 miles during 1931. This represents a decrease of 7.6 percent from the 1930 mileage. The drop, it is reported, was due to the discontinuing of several of the smaller, poorly patronized domestic lines. Express and passenger traffic increased during 1931.

Four Arrested

Marquette—Investigation of the robbery, recently, of a Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railway freight car near Wetmore has resulted in the arrest of four men and the uncovering of evidence which, police officers believe, will lead to the clearing up of several robberies said to have been committed by gangs in Luce county and, perhaps, in other districts.

A few days after the freight car robbery at Wetmore, Tom Summerville, a resident of that village, was arrested by Fred Ennis, state police detective, George Hager, South Shore railroad detective, and Frank Runsat, Alger county sheriff. Subsequently, as a result of statements made by Summerville, the officers picked up Carl Yokeum at Munising and later Detective Ennis arrested Lynn Yokeum, brother of Carl, at Gladstone. Summerville and the Yokeum brothers are being held in the Alger county jail in Munising.
